THE LITERARY POST.

A few days after my firsterrival in Egypt. save Mr. Lane, the traveller, my enricenty was excited on the subject of magic by a circumstance related to me by Mr. Salt, our consul-general. Having had reason to be lieve that one of his servants was a thief, from the fact of several articles of property having been stolen from his house, he sent for the celebrated Mughrebec magician, with the view of intimidating them, and causen the guilty one (if any one of them were goth, ty) to confess his crime. The magician came, and said that he would cause the ex-DITTSHURGH MANUFACTORY. As several boys were then employed in a garden adjacent to the house, one of these was called for this per-pose. In the palm of this boys right thand the magician drew with a pen, a certain diagram in the centre of which he poured a ittle ink. In this ink, he desired the boy steadfastly to look. He then burned some incense and several bits of paper inscribed with charms; and at the same time called for various of jects to appear in the ink. The boy declared that he saw all these objec a, and last of all the image of the guilty person; he described his stature, counts nance, and dress; said that he knew him and
