EVANS' CAMOMILE PILLS.—ABRAHAM J. CLEMER, residing at 66 Mott street, New York, was afflicted with Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form. The symptoms were violent headache, great debility, fever, costiveness, cough, heartburn, pain in the chest and stomach always after eating, impaired appetite, sensation of sinking at the stomach, furred tongue, nausea, with frequent vomitings, flatulency towards night and restlessness. These had continued upward of 6 months, when, on consulting Dr. Wm. Spark, 160 Chatham street, and submitting to his care, successful and immediate mode of treatment, the radical cure completely restored to health, in the short space of one month, and grateful for the inestimable benefit derived, gives publicity to the same, by the following voluntary statement, which he has signed and published in the newspapers.

PROSPECTUS

For publishing, a new Daily Paper in the City of Pittsburgh, to be entitled the DAILY MORNING POST.

THE Subscribers having made arrangements to merge the American Manufacturer and Pittsburgh Mercury into one Journal, have concluded to publish a daily paper with the title of the Daily Morning Post.

The leading object of the "Post" will be the maintenance and defence of the political principles that have long and ably been maintained by the Editors, in their respective papers, and their best efforts will still be devoted to the advancement and success of those doctrines.

Although, in politics, the paper will be thoroughly democratic, yet the Editors hope, by giving an honest, candid history of passing Political events, Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, and brief notices of all matters and occurrences that come properly within the sphere of a Public Journal, to make their paper sufficiently interesting to entitle it to the patronage of the public, irrespective of party considerations.

In addition to the political and general news that will be found in the "Morning Post," the Editors will take pains to furnish the business community with the latest and most interesting COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE from all parts of the country, and to have prepared such accounts of the Markets and the State of Trade as will be advantageous to our Merchants and Business Men in their several callings.

TERMS.—The Post will be published on a large imperial sheet of fine paper, (manufactured especially for this Journal) at the unusually low rate of FIVE DOLLARS per annum, payable in advance. It will also be sold by news boys at the low rate of TWO CENTS a copy.

Advertisements will be inserted at the lowest rates charged by the other daily papers of the city.

☞ TWENTY active lads are wanted to sell the Post, who will be engaged on the most liberal terms.

August 31, 1842. THOS. PHILLIPS,
W. H. SMITH.

DR. J. WESTON'S Vegetable Expectorant Syrup, an infallible cure for whooping cough. This disease is mostly confined to children, and is attended with a suffocating cough, and a deep shrill sound, called a whoop; it comes on with difficult breathing, thirst, hoarseness and cough, with difficult expectoration. The violent exertions in coughing bloat the face, which turns purple, and the eyes swell and become prominent.

Consumption often dates its origin from this disease, which has hitherto baffled the skill of the most able physicians, but now by this simple vegetable medicine this distressing and frequently destructive disorder can be cured in a few days. Thousands have given it a trial and in no case where used according to the direction has it failed, loosening the viscid matter and making it easily expectorated without such violent straining as is invariably experienced by little sufferers by every mode of treatment that has been recommended.

Coughs, colds, consumption, asthma, &c. cured by Dr. Weston's Indian Cough Medicine, many cases of consumptions, some in the advanced stages and given up as incurable by physicians, have been cured by this medicine with his pills and plaster. $1 large bottles, small 50 cts. Pills 25 cents, plaster 25 cts. His Strengthening Plaster is the best in the world for weak backs, pain in the side, &c. &c.

Dr. J. Weston's Eye Water cures all disorders of the eyes when all other means fail. Price 25 cents. His Corn Salve is sold at 12½ cts. per box, containing enough to cure 20 corns or more. He has also a perfectly safe and highly valuable medicine for worms—price 25 cents per bottle.

His Essences are superior to all others, being at least 6 times the strength of any that can be purchased at any of the druggists, such as peppermint, spearmint, cinnamon, lemon, orange, lavender, clover, fennel, almond, peppermint, rosemary, cartaway, &c. &c. Price 12½ cents per bottle, or 50 cts per case containing 4 bottles, or $2.50 for boxes containing 6 bottles.

For sale at John Thompson's Grocery 153 Liberty st., next door to the "Three Big Doors." sep 10

DR. J. B. TIBBITT'S, Respectfully informs the citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity, that he has returned to the city. He hopes to share the confidence of his former patrons and the public generally, and solicits a renewal of a portion of their patronage. In connection he would observe, that the operation of Lithotrity, (or breaking the stone in the bladder and allowing it to pass off with the urine,) is every where commanding the deepest interest. He hopes to extend the benefit of this branch of his profession, to the afflicted. Strictures, Stone, &c. of the Bladder and Kidneys, which occasionally baffle, will likewise receive attention.

Those from a distance wishing further information will apply personally or by letter, as if desired can be accommodated at his dwelling, in a retired part of the city, on Third, between Penn and Liberty sts. sep 10

J. RITZ, No. 141 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Wholesale and Retail Dealer and Importer in Jewelry, Watches, Glass and Cutlery, Respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he continues to keep constantly on hand a large and general assortment of the above articles, which he offers for sale on the most reasonable terms. sep 10

An American Diver.—The Sunderland, Eng., Times notices a wonderful leap by a young American seaman named Michael Smith, 23 years of age, from the summit of the lamp frame on Sunderland bridge into the river Wear—a height of upwards of 110 feet. On reaching the water, he struck out, and swam "like a bird," to a keel or barge, from which he saluted the spectators on the bridge and on the heights, in the style of a true sailor. Tar, which was immediately returned by a round of hearty cheers from the assembled multitude. The first attempt made by Smith was prevented by the interference of the police, who took him into custody on the charge that he obstructed the throughfare of the bridge, by inducing multitudes to crowd it, to witness the spectacle! The second attempt was effected by his evading the eyes of the public officers. The reason assigned by the young man for his perilous adventure, was to raise a little money in order that he might be enabled to fit himself out for sea.

We heard a good joke yesterday upon one of our steamboat Captains. He was invited to take tea with a rosy young widow, who probably had a design upon his heart. The Captain went willingly. He met several persons at table, of a fashionable air and manner, and for a moment felt as though he was out of his element. However, he sat down. It is a rule in fashionable circles, that if, when a cup is empty, the spoon be laid in the saucer, the persons desires another cup of the beverage. The servants were watchful, and each time the Captain's spoon was thus placed, they took his cup for a fresh supply. The quantity drank was enormous, and the guests appeared to be well filled up, the spoon however went into the saucer as before. The widow's tea was down to the dregs. "Captain," said she, "I'm very sorry, but there is no more tea."

"Glad of it," replied the Captain gruffly and placing his hand on his stomach, "my boiler's full—and more than that, (placing his finger on his forehead) if I'd got to drink any more, I should want a new Tea head."

"Ephraim is joined to his idols, let him alone," says the Albany Evening Journal, alluding to Daniel Webster in his late great speech. Now this we think very excellent advice. Aye, "let him alone," Whigs; say as little about the great Daniel as you can, and beware particularly of the Faneuil Hall speech; it will do you no good. The greatest revilers that, his adoration of one great idol of Whigism is rather lukewarm. He bows not the knee to Baal in the matter of the Presidency.

Vessel Burnt!—On Saturday afternoon last, about 4 o'clock, a vessel of some description, either a schooner or steamboat—was seen on fire about five miles to the eastward of Ship Island. The burning continued until about half past 8 o'clock, when the hull appeared to go down. From Biloxi the conflagration was distinctly seen with the aid of a spy-glass. Many persons who witnessed it declared that there was amidst the smoke two chimneys, as of a high pressure steamboat. If it was a boat, it is conjectured to have been the New Albany, which left this port on the 3d days ago, by way of the river, for Mobile. Up to Sunday afternoon, no tidings from the ill fated vessel has been received any where upon the coast.

The littleness of some men is too small for computation. The Democrat tells the following story, which for miserness of soul surpasses any thing we ever heard.—Boston Times.

A printer's boy recently found a pocket book in one of our streets, containing six $50 in money, several notes of hand, and many other valuable papers. On opening the pocket book, the boy discovered the owner's name, and sent him word immediately. The gentleman called, received his lost property, thanked the boy for honesty, and walked off. A magnanimous soul, truly.

☞ A man, called "Lob Scouse," has been arrested and put in Alleghany prison, on suspicion of being the incendiary of the bridges burned the other night, over Mill Creek. The evidence against him is, that an earthern jug was found near the bridge, containing remains of spirits of turpentine, which it is supposed, had been used to fire the bridge with, and that the prisoner was identified by a druggist of the borough of Manayunk, as the person who had purchased of him identically, the jug the same that he had used for the purpose. We think it would be safe to hang a man with such an amusing name as that of "Lob Scouse," at a venture.

An example for the Girls.—Miss Elizabeth Ganning, of Michigan, a young lady of high respectability, and daughter of a distinguished citizen and office holder, lately spun one hundred knots of fine yarn, good woolen yarn and reeled eighty knots all in one day; between daylight and dark. That is better than spinning street yarn and
