Persons were marshalled into the during the lit was about noon day, and all the morning had been ornamentally obscured by a staking shower, The complainant, defendant, witnesses, and all in any way connected with the case, had travelled requiles to find this only spot in a large region where justice was assumed to be under legal distribution. Into the country court room; they me all seaking wet, and nearly every man with the stump of a bad smelling eigar in his mouth. Two or three were very drunk, and lay right down en benches and foxes about the place, to go to eleep. One man had thought enough to kindle a fire, gathering such materials as was at hand, and around this the rest of the party gathered to get themselves partially dry. It was in a Seplember day, and though not very cold, a dry jack-

Then there was a laugh, and as the Judge sat down, another man asked him if he was going to keep the prisoner's box all to himself? The deputy constable then said "he'd be d--d if the cours should'nt be kept in order," ordering at the same time, Bill B. uce to give him a ci-

Floating Island!

The New York State Mechanic, after giving some account of the floating island in Derwent Lake, near Keswich, in England, matches it with one in Clinton, in the northeastern corner of New York. We copy what relates to it.

Remarkable as this floating island may be, it more so than one quicing turn of mind, and then residing not many miles distant, made a visit to the spot, and his ac . count was published in the Christim Advecate and

Journal of New York city.
The lake on which the island is found lies in a deep gorge or rotten gulf of high table mountry for its 'huckle berries" and its rattle snakes, the Chronicle so neatly last winter, appearand called the Flat Rock. The water in this lake is very deep, and the island differs from the other in constantly floating. In fact a number of pines were growing on it at the time of the visit of Mr. Wood, some of which were five or six inches diameter. The surface is covered with the productions peculiar to marshy grounds and though the soil is so soft that a sharpen d pole may be thrust discovered on it at various times. Strictly speaking it is not an island, but a peninsula, and this will explain the apparent inconsistency contained in the last sentence. However, that it floats, and is disconnected from the bottom, is demonstrated from the fact that the wind wi'l cause it to change its position, varying some days many rods from Were the isthmus that acts as an American Pork in England.

A Lendon correspondent of the N. Y Post, says there is one much more engrossing subject of conversation in England at present than the African or Affghan war, and that is-'American Pork!' It is the topic of the day. Every newspaper contains a paragraph about 'American pork'-every shopkeeper in the pros the Bankrupt act. vision line advertises 'American pork.'--Literally or figuratively 'American pork' is in every body's mouth. The poor man buys it because he can get it cheap-the dainty epicure condescends to touch 'the thing' out of pure curiosity. British pigbreeders are in despair, and grunt out their grievances, but the public won't listen. It is to be regretted however that some knavish bacon-men have attempted to get off their old stocks of bad Irish pork as American; thus running the risk of creating prejudice at the outset. It is also said that some of your undoubted pork is not cured as well as it might be. On the 10th of October, the first day the tariff came into operation, there were sold in Liverpool 1.199 barrels American pork, at 31s. to 46s. per barrel, duty paid; 1,522 barrels foresight. beef, at 38s. to 39s. per barrel; 311 barrels hams, at 30s. to 31s. per cwt. The Chronicle is extremely anxious to ascertion "who did diddle Tom Phillips" since, Rev. J. W. B. Wood, a gentleman of an inevening. "Tom Phillips" candidly admits the diddling, as he did not expect nor desire that the result should be otherwise in a meeting where Doctor Callahan, Blind tains equally noted through the surrounding coun- Sam and the ex-auctioneer who diddled ed to be the ruling spirits. Standard of Value.-The worth of every thing s determined by the demand for it. In the de serts of Arabia, a pitcher of cold water is worth more than a mountain of gold.

When people can rightly appreciate this doctrine, locofocoism will not be so abhorrent. Money is only valuable according to the amount of the necessaries of life which it will bring. One dollar for l a day's work is as good wages as ten dollars, if one dollar will purchase as much flour as ten dollars. This is a truism which cannot be controverted.
