'Draw lots,' said one.

'Lots Le d-hem!' said another. 'I move, Mr. Foreman, we just tucker old Jusy out. Who's got a pack of carcel Nobcdy had any.

So we got up two or three wrestling and boxing ma ches, and worked away with great earnestness till one of the jurons cried out.

'There's Mike!'

Now Mike kept a capital cating cellar. and the window was open in a second. A string of handk-rchi-fs was mid-, with some money and a note; one end of which was not long in reaching Mike's dester hand. In a few minutes the custre embodied in the jury, were seated around the table eating pie and cold chicken smoking Havanuas, and drinking some of the best Maderia in the would. The Washingtonians, we regret to say, had a then commenced their philanthropic inbors. The result was a lettle the noisiest racket that ever 'was bearn tell on in them parts.' The only man who maintained the dignity of the body, was the foreness. His honor, hearing the up oar, ordered us up. We marched into court single file. with only one who could walk a chalk line.

'Mr. Foreman have you yet agreed? 'No, your honor, and we never can. 'That a-hic-f-fact; blast-me; hig-if taint,' added one of the jurors. 'Silence in the court,' roared the officer. 'Si-bic-lence yourself-hic-' responded the juror.

'Order!' shouted the officer again. Order hic-who?' again responded the indignant twelfth part of the 'country,' 'Mr. Foreman.' said the Judge, his eyes twinkling with mirth. 'I perceive that your discussions have been unusually exciting, and therefore shall discharge you from the further consideration of this case

Cff the jury went, tumbling over the benches and each other. in a most sidicalous confision -- Portland American.
