Enough-to hang his son,' whispered Michaul to his father, as Mr. Evans's land steward, followed by his herdsmen and two JA WES BUCHANAN policemen, entered the cabin. In a few minutes afterwards, the policemen had in charge the dismembered carcase of the sheep, dug out of the floor of the barn, and were escorting Michaul, handcuffed, to the county gand, in the vicinity of the next They could find no trace of the animal's skin, though they sought attentively for it; and this seemed to disappoint them and the steward a good deal.

From the moment that they entered the cabin, till their departure old Carroll did not speak a word - Without knowing it, as it seemed, he sat down on his straw bed, and remained staring stupidly around him. at one or another of his visitors. When Michaul was about to leave the wretched ab de, he paded quickly towards his father, and holding out his ironed hands, and turning his cheek for a kiss, said, emiling miserably, God be wid you, father dear. Sull the old man was si'ent, and the prisoner and att his attendants passed out on the road. But it was then the agony of old Carroll assumed a distinctness. Uttering a fearful cry, he snatched up his still sleeping little grandson, ran with the boy in his arms till he over ook Michaul; and. tell me I have it afore you go? an' here, I's forgot him, a vourne

'No, father, I did'nt,' answered Michaus as he stooped to kiss the child; an' get up father, get up; my hands are not my own, or I would'nt let you do that afore your son. The parting from his father, however, so different from it is that he, who produces wealth, should what it had promised to be, comforted him, The old man held him in his arms, and wept on his neck. They were separated with difficulty.

Peery Carroll, sitting on the road side after he lost sight of the prisoner, and holding his screaming grandson on his easy remedy; and the great advantage of knees, thought the cup of his trials was "reading and writing" is to be able to forfull. By his imprudence he had fixed the proof of guilt on his own child; that re Section was enough for him, and he could indulge it only generally. But he was yet to conceive distinctly in what dilemma now afflict the laboring masses of Enghe had involved himself as well as Michaul. The Policeman came back to compel his appearance before the magistrate; and when the little child had been disposed of his consternation and horror that he was to be the chief witness against the sheep stealer .- Mr. Evans's steward knew well the meaning of the words he had overheard to swear all he was aware of, no doubt would exist of the criminality of Michaul, in the eyes of the jury. 'Tis a strange thing to ax a father to do muttered Peery more than once, as he proceeded to the magistcate's; 'it is a very strange thing.'

The magistrate proved to be a humane man. Notwithstanding the zeal of the steward and the policeman, he committed Michael for trial, without continuing to press the hesitating and bewildered old but not certainly known. Ignorance of the Chartists. Of one hundred and twenty-four chartist orisoners, who are to take their trials in England, there are only six who are described in the calendar as being able to read and write well; whilst thirty-seven are unable to read or write at all; and the rest of them are only able to do so imper- by the police, of course-intend to support fectly. Mayoralty. We observe the proceedings of a meeting, published in the Chronicle of yesters day, at which George Washington Burns, Esc., was nominated for the office of Mayor. The meeting was composed of the workingmen of the Point, and the proceedings express their strongest determination to "stand by the man, with whom they all enjoy a hearty acquaintance, in increasing opposition to the silk stocking gentry, who try." The contest for the Mayoralty at the coming election, will no doubt be a warm one, as the honors and profits have become desirable objects in the eyes of office hunters: The present incumbent, we understand, is anxious for a re-election, and a portion of his party friends-backed his claims for the nomination. The Mary Rogers Mystery Explained. We find in the Tribune of Friday morning, the following account of the Mary Rogers case:

"The terrible mystery which for more than a year has hung over the fate of Mary Rogers, whose body was found, as our 54,545 readers will well remember, in the North river, under circumstances such as convinced every one that she was the victim of hellish lust and then murder, is at last explained-to the satisfaction, we doubt not, of all. It may be recollected that associated with the tale of her disappearance was the name of Mrs. Liss, the woman who kept the refreshment house nearest the scene of her death. About a fortnight since—as we have already stated—this woman was accidentally wounded by the premature discharge of a gun in the hands of 6,317 her son; the wound proved fatal; but be-9,000 fore she died she sent for Justice Merritt, of N. J., and told him the following facts: 16 On the Sunday of Miss Rogers' disappear-10 ance, she came to her house from this city ble, that in the confusion arising from the 14 in company with a young physician, who fire, and the mob breaking into the Tombs

While in the hands of this physician she 129 died, and a consultation was then held as to the diaposal of her body. It was finally taken at night by the son of Mrs. Loss, and sunk in the river where it was found. Her clothes were first tied up in a bundle and sunk in a pond on the land of James G. King, in that neighborhood; but it was afterwards thought they were not safe there, and they were accordingly taken and seattered through the woods as they were found. The name of the physician is unknown to us, nor do we know whether it was divulged or not. The Mayor had been made acquainted with these facts by Mr. Merritt, and we doubt not an immediate in. quiry after the guilty wretch will be made. We have just learned that he was this morning married to Caroline Henshaw, and that his execution will not take place until about 4 O'clock this afternoon.

We learned from Justice Merritt that Colt is remarkably firm and collected: He expressed a wish to be shaved this morning between 7 and 8 o'clock, and partook of his morning meal with apparent appetite. The Rev. Dr. Anthon married him, at half-past 12 o'clock, in the presence of Sheriff Hart, David Graham, jr., Samuel Colt. Justice Merritt, Robert Emmet and John Howard Payne. The ceremony took place in the cell of the prisoner.

The Evening Post, however, says in egard to the marriage: No such ceremony took place; we aver it as coming from the lips of the doomed man.

The American also positively denies the ruth of the report.

An extra of the Herald gives the following further particulars: 'At 2 o'clock he requested his keeper, Mr. Greene, to let him be left a'one until the last moment.-His cell was I sed and he was left alone prers this morning, by then until 20 minutes to 4, when some friends of the Sheriff apprehended that he might attempt to commit suicide, one of the Deputy Sheriffs, Hillyer, went to his cell door; I requested to wish him 'good bye.' Colt was seen walking up and down his cell, but turned round on the door opening, smiled on Hillyer, shook him by the hand and kissed him, as he did several of those who had just previously bid him farewell in this life. He said to Hillyer-God bless you, and may you prosper in this life which is soon to close on me.' From this time to three o'clock, the excitement a- she was ac ordingly remain round the prison increased tremendously; and the feelings of those in the prison were also worked up to a pitch of great intensity. Several eminent surgeons came into the prison a little before 3, and the universal topic of discussion, all round, among the little knots of spectators, was, whether he had been furnished with the means, and whether he would commit suicide or not. Many prophecied that by 4 o'clock there lately introduced by the open would be a dead man without hanging.'

SUICIDE OF JOHN C. COLT. Five minutes past 4 o'clock.
