It is now well known that the Brandreth Pills have cured thousands of hopeless, and helpless persons, even when the first physicians had pronounced them beyond all human means of relief. It is now not only well known that the Brandreth Pills so cure, but it is also un erstood how they cure; that it is by their purifying effect on the blood that they restore the body to health. The value of the medicine is becoming more and more nanifest, it is recommended daily from family to family The Brandreth Pills remove in an almost imperceptible manner all noxious accumulations and purify and invigo-rate the blood, and their good effects are not counterbalan danger; and their effects are as certain as they are salu was the only daughter of a merchant will routh, manhood, and old age, and to women in the most

THE LITERARY POST.

The Two Pingers.

In the suburbs of a small vilage, attended not far from Tours, on the high seasofrom Paris to Bordesux, stood a first yearwage, a neat little inn, with a gundy sign, upon which the traveler might have read the words which are the usual decoration for all the 'auberges' throughout France:

'Ici on Loge a PIED ET A CHEVAL for some distance, and separated it frame, the adjoining hamiers. Thus insoluted, with its newly painted front and brights green shutters, it presented to the eye of the trave ler an appearance which would have reminded him of one of those beautiful villas which adorn the picturaque banks of the Loire. The interior of the inn was in perfect keeping with its neat aut-

It was in the kitchen of the Whits Inn. (for this was the name by which it was generally known,) upon a cold and storms evening in the month of November, 1818, that the honest Ebrard and his three children, with one of their neighbors, were seated around a blazing fire, discoursing f different affairs.

'Do you hear that rain?' said Ebrard, breaking in upon a silence which had reigned for some moments: 'this is the third day since the storm commenced, and the weather shows no signs of clearing. The sky is as black as that chimney. Not the shadow of a traveler these six days. Maria, go and bring us two bottles of our bes'; you know where to find it; in the vault at the left of the cellar.' These words, spoken in a rude and imperious tone, aroused Maria from the rew verie in which she seemed lost; she threw a vacant and unmeaning glance upon him who had so rudely addressed her; then remembering the injunction of Ebrard, she arose and left the room without uttering a
