EVANS'S CAMOMILE PILLS.—ABRAHAM J. CLEMES, residing at 66 Mott street, New York, was afflicted with Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form. The symptoms were violent headache, great debility, fever, costiveness, cough, heartburn, pain in the chest and stomach always after eating, impaired appetite, sensation of sinking at the stomach, furred tongue, nausea, with frequent vomitings, dizziness towards night and restleness. These had continued upward of a twelvemonth, when, on consulting Dr. Wm. Evans, 100 Chatham street; and submitting to his ever successful and agreeable mode of treatment, the patient was completely restored to health in the short space of one month, and grateful for the incalculable benefit derived, gladly came forward and volunteered the above case.

LOOK AT THIS.

The attention of those who have been somewhat sceptical in reference to the numerous certificates published in favor of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry on account of the persons being unknown in this section of the State, is respectfully directed to the following certificate, the writer of which has been a citizen of this borough for several years, and is known as a gentleman of integrity and responsibility.

To the Agent, Mr. J. KIRBY.

I have used Dr. Swayne's Comp und Syrup of Wild Cherry for a cough, with which I have been severely afflicted for about four months, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most effective medicine that I have been able to procure. It composes all uneasiness, and agrees well with my diet,—and maintains a regular and good appetite. I can freely recommend it to all others similarly afflicted. J. MISNICK, Borough of Chambersburg.

INDIVIDUAL ENTERPRISE.

U. S. PORTABLE BOAT LINE.

For the Transportation of Merchandize to and from Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, and Boston. Through in the shortest time.

THE United States Portable Boat Line, is composed of Boats built in four sections, each section capable of containing seven tons, and susceptible of being separate or detached and transferred from Canal to Rail Road, thus, as it were, forming a complete train of Cars, or presenting the novel appearance of a Boat sailing on land and thereby avoiding the great delay occasioned by reshipping at the several junctions and terminations of Canals and Rail Roads, the expense of transhipment and the damage to goods usually by frequent handling, and rendering it impossible to separate lots of goods on the way—owing to the peculiar construction of the Boat having four separate apartments in which goods are stored, renders them less liable to damage goods by water or otherwise than by any other mode of transportation.

The system of Transportation, as recommended by the Canal Commissioners and lately adopted by the State refers particularly to this class of Boats. The Boats of this Line are owned by responsible captains that run them, and is the only Line now in operation free from monopolies or combination.

Goods consigned to the undersigned agents will be received free of commission and shipped without delay at the lowest rates. All charges paid and every instruction promptly attended to. C. A. M'NULTY & Co. Agts.

PROSPECTUS

For publishing a new Daily Paper in the City of Pittsburgh, to be entitled the

DAILY MORNING POST.

THE Subscribers having made arrangements to merge the American Manufacturer and Pittsburgh Mercury into one Journal, have concluded to publish a daily paper with the title of the Daily Morning Post.

The leading object of the "Post" will be the dissemination and defence of the political principles that have heretofore been maintained by the Editors, in their respective papers, and their best efforts will still be devoted to the advancement and success of those doctrines.

Although, in politics, the paper will be thoroughly democratic, yet the Editors hope, by giving an honest, candid history of passing Political events, Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, and brief notices of all matters and occurrences that come properly within the sphere of a Public Journal, to make their paper sufficiently interesting to entitle it to the patronage of the public, irrespective of party considerations.

In addition to the political and general news that will be found in the "Morning Post," the Editors will take pains to furnish the business community with the latest and most interesting COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE from all parts of the country, and to have prepared such accounts of the Markets and the State of Trade as will be advantageous to our Merchants and Business Men in their several callings.

Terms.—The Post will be published on a large imperial sheet of fine paper, (manufactured especially for this Journal) at the unusually low rate of FIVE DOLLARS per annum, payable in advance. It will also be sold by news-boys at the low rate of TWO CENTS a copy.

Advertisements will be inserted at the lowest rates charged by the other daily papers of the city.

☞ TWENTY active lads are wanted to sell the Post, who will be engaged on the most liberal terms

TO THE WISE.—It is now well understood how much disorders of the mind depend for their cure upon a due attention to the body. It is now understood how valuable is that medicine which will remove morbid accumulations without weakening the bodily power. It is now understood that there is a reciprocal influence between the mind and the body. It is now understood that purging with the Brandreth Pills will remove a melancholy, and even insanity is cured by perseveringly using them. It is now understood how much domestic happiness depends upon the healthy condition of the digestive organs.

It is now well known that the Brandreth Pills have cured thousands of hopeless and helpless persons, even when the first physicians had pronounced them beyond all human means of relief. It is now not only well known that the Brandreth Pills so cure, but it is also understood how they cure, that it is by their purifying effect on the blood that they restore the body to health.

The value of the medicine is becoming more and more manifest, it is recommended daily from family to family. The Brandreth Pills remove in an almost imperceptible manner all noxious accumulations and purify and invigorate the blood, and their good effects are not counterbalanced by any inconveniences; being composed entirely of vegetables they do not expose those who use them to danger; and their effects are as certain as they are salutary; they are daily and safely administered to infancy, youth, manhood, and old age, and to women in the most critical and delicate circumstances. They do not disturb or shock the animal functions, but restore their order and establish their health.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATISM, DIARRHŒA, AND AFFECTION OF THE LUNGS.

JOHN SHAW, of Pembroke, Washington county, Maine, being duly sworn, says, that he was taken violently sick about six months since. The pains in his head, breast, back, left side and instep being so bad that he was unable to help himself, and was taken into the Chelsea Hospital in the city of Boston. That after being in said hospital five weeks, Doctor Otis said he did not know what was the matter with him, and that he could do nothing for him, nor could he prescribe any medicine. That he, therefore, was conveyed from the Chelsea Hospital to the Sailor's retreat on Staten Island. That he was there physicked with all sorts of medicine for a period of four months, suffering all the time the most heartrending misery.—That, besides his affection of the lungs: sometimes he would spit a quart of phlegm in the day; besides this affection he had a bad Diarrhœa, which had more or less attended him from the commencement of his sickness. That at times he dreaded a stool worse than he would have dreaded death; that he can compare the feeling to nothing save that of knives passing through his bowels. After suffering worse than death at the Sailor's Retreat, on Staten Island, the doctor told him that medicine was of no use to him, that he must try to stir about. At this time he was suffering the greatest misery. That his bones were so tender he could not bear the least pressure upon the elbow or upon the knee, that his instep was most painful, that as the Doctor said he would give him no more medicine he determined to procure some of Dr. Brandreth's Pills, which he did, from 241 Broadway New York; that he commenced with five pills, and sometimes increased the dose to eight. The first week's use so much benefited him, that the doctor, not knowing what he was using, said, now, Shaw, you look like a man again; if you improve in this way, you will soon be well." That he fared every dose of the Brandreth Pills relieve him, first they cured him of the pain when at stool; that they next cured the diarrhœa, and finally the pains in his bones;—That the medicine seemed to add strength to him every day. He told the doctor yesterday the 11th instant, that he felt himself well; and also, that he owed his recovery to Brandreths Pills under Providence, that he had taken the medicine every day for 19 days; that the doctor told him if he had known he had been taking that medicine, he should not have stayed another day in the house. He considers it his duty to make this public statement for the benefit of all similarly afflicted, that they may know where to find a medicine that will cure them. JOHN SHAW

John Shaw being by me duly sworn this 12th day of April, 1842, did depose and say the the foregoing statement is true. J. D. WHEELER, Commissioner of Deeds.

The Turkish Government.

The following account of the Turkish Government is extracted from Macculloch's recently published Geographical, Statistical, and Historical Dictionary:—

The dependence of the Sultan on the Koran, though it limits in some degree his power to tyranize over his subjects, possesses at the same time the most formidable obstacles to his attempts to introduce any organic changes, how expedient soever necessary soever. The rights and social condition of the people living in the Turkish empire, who have not embraced the religion of the conquerors, are supposed to be determined by the Koran. And herein lies the difficulty;—without, as it were, overturning the very foundations on which the whole fabric rests—of effecting any material changes in the situation of the dependent population. The Turks cannot, unless they abandon their own religion, amalgamate with them, or raise them to the same level as themselves; so that the nation under always consist of two distinct parts—the Turkish or ruling portion, and the tributary of subjugated infidels, who exist upon sufferance, and who can never arrive at any situation of power or emolument. The character of the Mahommedan religion is in truth, an all but insuperable obstacle to any thing like real reform. Though less intolerant than many others, it inculcates on the minds of its votaries the most exalted ideas of their own importance, and the most profound contempt for all sort of unbelievers. There may, no doubt, be an imitation of European tactics, and an attempt to introduce something like the practices and institutions that prevail in the European States; but it is impossible, so long as the religion of the prophet maintained its ascendancy, that they can have any considerable influence. Submission to their power has saved the unbelieving population of the country from death; but nothing short of their embracing the religion of the conquerors can effectually protect them from insult and contempt, and, consequently, also from extortion and tyranny.

The Grand Signor is assisted in the government of the empire by a cabinet council or divan, consisting of the principal ministers of the empire, and of the mufti, or head of the law. Until very recently, the Sultans were in the habit of delegating the greater portion of their authority to the grand vizier, (vizier azmeh,) who became, as it were, regent of the empire, being at the head of the civil government, and generalissimo of the naval and military forces. But of late years the powers of this functionary have been very much curtailed. Indeed the place was wholly abolished by the late, though it has been revived by the present Emperor. The functions of the other Ministers correspond with those of Ministers for Foreign Affairs, (reis effendi,) of the Interior, Commerce and finance, (seraskier,) a Grand Admiral, etc. The court of Constantinople is generally known in other European countries by the title of the Sublime Porte, a designation derived from the Bab humayon, or principal outer gate of the seraglio, whence the hatti scherifs, or imperial edicts are usually issued.

The sheik-ul-islam, (mufti.) or head of the clergy and chief interpreter of the Koran and the canonical laws, is a very important functionary. He nominates to all the principal offices in church and law, and takes precedence of every other subject in the empire; even of the grand vizier. On most great occasions the Sultan applies to the sheik-ul-islam for a fetwa, or legal opinion, to ascertain whether his intended course of action be in accordance with the Koran. But this is not indispensable, and has very rarely been refused. Latterly, too, the opinions of the mufti have became of less importance.

The mufti is always chosen from the ulemi, a body comprising the clergy with the interpreters and administrators of the law. But, though they all study together, the lawyers and judges are quite distinct from the clergy; it being left to every young man brought up in the colleges of the order to determine for himself, when he has attained a proper age and acquired a sufficient stock of learning, whether he will become a priest, or a doctor of law or a jud
