Rumored Mutiny. It was currently reported in N. Y. last week, that Midshipman Spencer, son of the Secretary of War, attached to the U. S. brig Somers, was tried by a Court Martial off the Coast of Africa, on the charge of mutiny, (having conspired with a portion of the crew to seize the brig and go on a pi ratical cruise.) was found guilty, and hung at the yard arm! The rumor is not credited by the N. Y. papers.

When the Spencer, who led on fifty of the crew, consisting remained loyal to their flig and commander, and these, with the officers, succeeded, after a conflict with the murineers, in which some of them were severely wounded, in suppressing the revolt and putting all the mutineers in irons.

Immediately afterwards, a kind of drum head Court Martial was held, before which, it is said evidence was produced, that the moutiny had been planned by Spencer before the Simers left part; concerted with him the part they were to act which was to murder the officers, and having obtained posses in of the vossel, repair to Sandy Hook, cruiz: off for the packet ships, rab them of the specie they had on board, and violate the fe male passengers. The decision of the Court Martial was that Spencer and two of his confederates should be hung at the yard arm, and this was at once carried into execution, Spencer asking for ten minutes' grace to write to his father, the Secretary of War, which was refused to him, he being told that his intention had been to murder his commander and officers without giving them a moment for preparation, and that they would now | the Treasury Department. mete out to him, the fate he had intended for
