DAILY MORNING POST.

JANUARY 30, 1843. The Report of the Managers of the Society for the relief of Indigent Females, will be found on our first page. It will be a source of regret to every person of philanthropic feeling, that the praiseworthy object of this association has not received a more liberal encouragement. From what we hear of the Society, we believe it to be organized on a plan that would, if Agency and Intelligence office. Jan 19. FOR THE MORNING POST. Mesers. Epirons:—The communication which appeared in your paper of Friday morning should not have been noticed by me were it not that some might suppose that its author was a decent man or boy. It is useless to parley with him about "who threw the first water," as it is well known
