Why not take up the bill providing for the reduction of salaries of all officers? After further debate, Messrs. Wise and

Arnold simultaneously moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to report a bill for reducing the salaries of all officers of the Government, including those of mem- THE PHILLIPS & WM. H. SMITH, EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS bers of Congress. These motions did not prevail.

The bill was then amended so as to reduce the salary of the commissioner to

Mr. Ward protested against this reduction, and recounted the high and responsible duties devolving upon the commissioner. Among other matters, he stated that at least a million of money passes through the hands of the commissioner annually. for the disbursement of which he receives nothing. Yet it was proposed to reduce the salary to $1500. Why the Postmaster of the Capitol, who was employed but six months out of the year, received that. And another person, who merely had to sit all day long in the Rotunda, had also $1500. of the bill, with the amendment, cutting down the salary from $3,000 to $1,500. On motion of Mr. Fillmore, the House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the state of the Union. Mr. Arnold moved to take up the for reducing the pay of members. H said it was one of the most important bills of the session. The motion failed, having very few supporters.
