Business, as yet, on our public works has experienced no diminution. Immense quantities of produce are stored up in our transportation depots, or leave daily, and freight for the east is still pouring in. The tolls on the Western Division have increased thousands and even tens of thousands of dollars, (as compared with former years,) and the sagacious and prudent policy of the Canal Commissioners, is working wonders on the improvements of Pennsylvania.

This state of things, so gratifying to the Board, and to those who have sustained them, is constantly eliciting some new fact going to prove the rottenness of the oldsystem, and the baleful effects the unno ly alliance formed lan winter with the view of wresting the state works from those who have honestly controled them, to put them virtually in the hands of the combined cars riers, and their profligate political allies .-It is known that last winter the alliance we speak of had almost triumphed; and would have succeeded entirely had it not been for the Governor's veto. The fear that they would succeed, and their loud boasting that they would prostrate the system of individual competition, prevented many men from building section boats who prices have been raised. Had the Truck tors in an agreeable manner. System been permitted to bave fair play; Had no efforts been made to discourage men in building Section Boats, there would have been plenty of boats provided to transport any amount of goods. We hope that there may be a full turn out, on the occasion. It is a most important movement, and eve ery man should form and express an opinion in relation to it. A meagre attendance at the polls, and the adoption or rejection of the proposed tax by less than a majority of the whole number of voters in the city, would afford ground for cavil by the defeated party, and create no little dissatisfaction in future.
