PROSPECTUS
For publishing a new Paper for the City of Pittsburgh, to be entitled the DAILY MORNING POST.

The subscribers having made arrangements to merge the American Manufacturer and Pittsburgh Mercury into one Journal, have concluded to publish a daily paper with the title of the DAILY MORNING POST.

The leading object of the "Post" will be the dissemination and defence of the political principles that have heretofore been maintained by the Editors, in their respective papers, and their best efforts will be devoted to the advancement and success of those doctrines.

Although, in politics, the paper will be thoroughly Democratic, yet the Editors hope, by giving an honest and candid history of passing Political events, Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, and brief notices of all national occurrences, to make their paper sufficiently interesting to all classes of the community.

In addition to the political and general news that will be found in the "Morning Post," the Editors will take pains to furnish the business community with the latest and most interesting Commercial Intelligence from all parts of the Country, and to have prepared such accounts of the Markets and the State of Trade as will be advantageous to our Merchants and Business Men in their several callings.

Terms.—The "Post" will be published on a large improved type paper, (manufactured especially for this purpose) at the unusually low rate of FOUR DOLLS PER ANNUM, payable in advance. It will also be sold by news boys at the low rate of TWO CENTS a copy. Advertisements will be inserted at the lowest rates charged by the other daily papers of the city.

Arrival of the Steamship Columbia.
Continuation of the Report Movement in Ireland—Disturbances in Wales, Russia, Spain, &c.

The Columbia arrived at Boston on Saturday morning, about 7 o'clock, bringing Liverpool dates to the 4th, and London to the evening of the 3d instant.

The news, especially from Ireland, is of high importance. Great inactivity appears to prevail in all branches of trade.

Among the passengers by the Columbia, we observe the name of the Rev. F. Sewall, bearer of despatches. We think it likely that there is some mistake in this, and that the Reverend gentleman is the Rev. F. Sewall of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church.

Ireland abhors, at the present moment, the exclusive attention of the British people. The Repeal movement continues to make the heart of Ireland a scene of excitement, and Mr O'Connell, after visiting Cork and various other parts of Ireland, has returned to Dublin.

During his sojourn in the province, hundreds of thousands of his countrymen congregated at his back, and his progress resembled a continuous ovation from his outset until his return. He addressed them, on every occasion, in the most inflammatory strain, condemning their depositions against the Repeal movement, and his progress was everywhere hailed as a triumph against Sir Robert Peel, the Duke of Wellington and Lord Brougham. The great bulk of the Catholic clergy have thrown themselves headlong into the movement.

The little principality of Wales has been giving some uneasiness of late to the powers that be. The southern portion, particularly, has been the scene of a series of outrages, which show an unhealthy tone of feeling amongst the peasantry. Hitherto, their depositions have been confined to midnight crusades against the parsons, bands of confederated laborers yelped Rebecca and her Daughters, but recently their boldness has become audacious and the magistrates have in consequence placed the disturbed districts under military surveillance.

Scotland has been the scene of religious movement, the most important in its consequences, the most extended in its ramifications, which has taken place since the time of Reformation. Nearly 600 ministers—the heart's blood of the Church embracing all that most distinguished of her sons—have thrown themselves upon the voluntary principle, rather than submit to an interference in matters of discipline by the civil powers.

The new military law in Spain appears to be the most difficult to carry out, and to the 1st of its predecessors, and to very unsettled as regards the measures it will pursue. It is evident enough that Spain has very little to gain by a choice between any two sets of rules in Spain.

Another conspiracy was said to have been discovered in the Turkish army, which had in view the dethronement of the Sultan and the placing of his brother on the throne.

The difficulties between Turkey and Persia are assuming a more brilliant aspect, and the mediation of the European governments is seriously talked of.

The Russians appear to have made no further progress in the subjugation of Circassia.

Charles Mackey, the murderer of his wife, was executed at Glasgow on Tuesday week. He left a letter acknowledging his guilt.

The Trade of Paisley continues to improve, and the display of shawls this season is unprecedented.

On the night of the 23rd ult., says a letter from Rome of the 24th, the Italian American squadron, consisting of five sail, was shortly to rendezvous in that harbor.

Ireland—All eyes appear to be turned to Ireland, awaiting with most intense anxiety the results of the movement now going on there. The decided action taken by the Peal administration on the subject of Repeal does not seem to have caused any abatement in the enthusiasm of the Repealers, large and small, in their meetings. It is evident, however, that O'Connell—the master spirit of the cause—is moving with rather more caution and circumspection. He does not deem it expedient to push matters to extremities, as he knows full well that the Irish people are very impulsive, and are not yet prepared to push an actual revolution with any hope of success.

All the strong places are in the hands of foes to effect. Brilliantly, it cannot be concealed that the movement is the work of an affected calmness, and in a state of alarm and inquietude. With an approaching storm of what was anticipated, with almost a certainty of still greater falling off for the year to come, the Government is hardly prepared to meet the trial.
