DAILY POST.

PITTSBURGH, THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1843.

☞For business cards, &c., see first page.

RAYMOND & WARING'S MENAGERIE.—This splendid collection of animals, as will be seen by referring to the advertisement of the proprietors, will be in this city on the 23d, and remain for three or four days.—This we understand is considered the most magnificent exhibition of the kind that has ever visited our part of the country, and as there has been no "lion show" with us for some years, we have no doubt but it will be well patronised while is remains. A detailed notice of it will be found in the advertisement.

☞The American advertises a political theatrical performance which is to ,"come off" in Wilkins township on Saturday next. We do not suppose that the entertainment will take place exactly as set down in the "bills of the day," but if it should, it will not be more ridiculous than many of the other clap-traps resorted to of late years by the whigs and blue noses to catch the applause of the groundlings that believe in their political doctrines.

DAILY AMERICAN.—Hereafter the American will be a morning paper. The editor makes this new arrangement for the purpose of furnishing his readers with earlier news than they can receive through an evening journal. Biddle has put himself to unnecessary trouble in this matter: if he had waited until after the election he might have issued a mourning paper without changing his publication hours; and as for the news it will make little odds to his readers at what time they get it then.

The editor of the Sun defends his predecessor—Mr. R. EGBERT—against the attack made upon him by the editor of the Age. As far as our knowledge of Mr. E. extends, we consider the attack of the Age entirely unjustifiable, and believe with the Sun, that personal animosity is not sufficient ground to induce an editor to pronounce a citizen of respectable standing a "notorious blackguard."

We are informed that the statements that appeared in the Chronicle and Age, respecting the conduct of constable Mc'Kelvy while apprehending some disorderly negroes a few days since, are untrue in all important particulars. A gentleman who has the best opportunities for knowing, tells us that a more efficient officer than Mr. Mc'Kelvy cannot be found in either city or county, and that there are none on whom he could rely with more confidence to perform the duties of constable faithfully. The statement that he was intoxicated at the time he made the arrest is a falsehood of the grossest kind, as he does not drink liquor at any time.

We have no doubt but our neighbors were imposed upon in this matter, and by misrepresentations induced to do great injustice to a faithful officer, who in attempting to discharge his duty where law and decency were most flagrantly outraged, was brutally assaulted and might have been murdered by the infuriated gang who use haunt of vice and debauchery he had been instructed to break up.

DR. McLANE'S WORM SPECIFIC.—READ AND BE CONVINCED.—Mr. J. Kidd—Sir: I I call to buy another vial of Dr. McLane's Worm Specific, and let you know the surprising effects of the vial I purchased a few days ago. My child had been ill for some time, and I was advised by my neighbors to try Dr. McLane's Worm Specific; I bought a vial, and gave only a half teaspoonful. The child passed 28 worms; I repeated the medicine until 63 worms came from the child. Before this I could not credit the certificates on the wrappers round the vial; now I fully believe them. My child is quite recovered.

Summer Complaint, Diarrhœa, &c.

WHITEMORE'S Compound Vegetable Syrup, is a medicine well known in the East as one of the most efficacious in the cure of the above complaints—read the following certificate:

[From a respectable citizen of Middletown, Ct.]
MIDDLETOWN, Sept. 24, 1841.

Dear sir:—Feeling that I owe a duty to the public, as well as yourself, in communicating facts which may benefit my fellow mortals, I would just state, that I have been afflicted with the diarrhœa; and having tried the various prescriptions recommended, with but little effect. a short time since my eye caught a notice in one of the newspapers, of your "Concentrated Vegetable Syrup," for the cure of the Diarrhœa, for sale in this city. I immediately purchased a bottle, and to my surprise and entire satisfaction, after the trial of a few doses, was healed of my complaint, and restored to a healthy action in my bowels. I can now say, I would not be without it in my possession on any account, and would advise all who may require its use to try it as I have done, and they will be satisfied of its virtues.

You at liberty, Sir, to make such use of this as you may deem proper.

Very respectfully yours,
FELIX W. WILLIAMS.

TO MACHINISTS, ENGINE-BUILDERS AND OWNERS OF MACHINERY.

BABBIT'S ANTI-ATTRITION METAL.—This excellent invention for the reduction of friction in machinery has at length been introduced in our city.—It consists of a lined box, suitable for all revolving and sliding motions in the various kinds of machinery, where great weight or speed are applied; these boxes reduce friction in a remarkable degree, requiring but little oil, and are warranted entirely free from the objections found with those now in use.

These lined boxes have been introduced in many of the Eastern Rail Roads, and in various manufacturing establishments in that section of country, to which the limits of an advertisement will not allow us to refer, and nearly thirty well known superintendents, engineers, machinists and engine builders in the east certify that, "In the use of these boxes, friction is reduced in a remarkable degree; oil is required only in small quantities, and the wear is hardly perceptible, during a period in which a hard metal box of the same thickness would be worn out; journals running in these boxes attain a smoother surface than they have seen on those which have been run in any other box." They also certify "that the patentee of this improvement has received the highest award of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic's Association, for specimens of these boxes, (some of which had been run on the crank of a locomotive engine more than thirty thousand miles,) at the fair of the Institution, held in Boston in September and October, 1841."

The Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, also awarded Mr. Babbitt the premium for the improvement in boxes, under the Scott Legacy, which confines such awards to new and useful improvements.

The Committee on naval affairs reported strongly in its favor, in consequence of which the right to use it was purchased by the Government for $20,000. The committee refer to, and make a part of their report the letters of S. V. Merrick, J. Erricson, George C. Read, C. W. Copeland, Com. L. Warrington, Hon. A. P. Upshur, and Charles Howard, recommending the invention.

Mr. S. V. Merrick states that the metal having been long enough in use to test its merits fully, he has no hesitation in saying that it is one of the most valuable improvements that has come to his notice. The effects produced are: a great diminution in friction; a saving in oil—one half or more: an economy in the original construction, the brasses being much lighter: a saving in repair, the metal lasting longer and being replaced at a less cost; and a saving in fuel, consequent upon diminished friction."

The metal has also been introduced with great advantage, in lining carriage and wagon boxes, for which i s well adapted.

It is also, amongst many others, strongly recommended by Mr. Charles Howard, President of the Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad Company, who purchased the right for the road, a distance of seventy miles, for $1,050. Mr. Howard gives the article the following recommendation:

"The price was considered a high one, for the comparatively limited extent to which the Company would have an opportunity of making use of the patent right; but we were satisfied that it was for our interest to avail ourselves of the invitation. I can now say, that, having better tested its value by a more extensive application of it, I think that the company would be very unwise to relinquish their right to use it for a much higher consideration than that which was given for it; and I have no doubt, that if such a proposition were to be made to the Company, it would, without hesitation, be declined.

The great merits of the invention are, that it prevents the heating, and consequent cutting and destruction of the bearings, which are so numerous on the steam engine; and on the perfection of which depends the value of the engine; while, at the same time, there is a very great saving of oil, the expenditure forms a material item in the cost of working a large engine. In the locomotives of the company. I find the saving to be fully one half of the quantity which was required before Mr. Babbitt's invention was applied to them. Some of these locomotives having run several thousand miles I can also say that this invention makes the machinery much more durable, so that while the effective power of the machine is increased, the cost of repairs is diminished."

☞The composition alluded to having been used in this vicinity, the proprietor is enabled to refer to the following gentlemen as to it merits, viz:

W. L. LYON, of the firm of Lyon, Shorb & Co.
EDWARD MORGAN, Engineer of the steam boat West Point.
JOSEPH HAMILTON, } Engineers of the steamer
JOSEPH TAYLOR, } Brunette.

☞The boxes and composition can be purchased & inspected at the Bell and Brass Foundry of ANDW. FULTON, corner of 2nd street and Chancery Lane.

Remedy for the Influenza.

THE Influenza, which is now in almost a universal epidemic, is exciting the investors of patent medicines to increased exertions in the puffing line, but owing to the general distrust entertained for the generality of such drugs, people fear taking them.—The following, however, from a distinguished physician in New York, Dr. Nelson, we think may be relied on:

"The object of the present communication is to recommend a single remedy, cheap and of easy access to the poor, and to caution them against an injurious one in this disease, namely, bleeding, either general or by leeches. In all those cases in which the first class of symptoms prevail, let the patient smell frequently at a common salts bottle, (Sims' Aromatic Volatile Salts are preferred) and by putting the vial to the mouth to draw a few deep inspirations of volatile matter into the lungs. Let this process be repeated two or three times in an hour, and it will give more speedy and greater relief, in all slight cases of the first class than any other remedy, and will be sufficient for a cure. It will also be essentially useful in the severe cases; and those of the class of prostration, a few drops of amonia, or hartshorn, ought to taken internally. A neat way of doing so is to take an old fashioned mixture called lac ammoniaci. However, it is as a local remedy, to act on the disordered surface, that its use is advised. The principles will be recognized by all physicians versed in molecular organization, and those who are deficient in that knowledge may do in that instance as they do in all others—act upon the faith they imbibe." These salts are for sale and within the reach of all classes, at WM. TOAR'S, 53 Market street, Pittsburgh. jy 17.
