PITTSBURGH BOARD OF TRADE.
COMMITTEE FOR OCTOBER.
W. J. Howard—J. B. Semple—George Ogden.

THURSDAY, Oct. 5, 1843.

On motion of H. H. Van Amringe Esq., MICHAEL McBRIDE was admitted to practice as an Attorney in the District Court of Allegheny County.

"THE RIGHT PRINCIPLE."—We would call the attention of merchants and retail dealers to the advertisement of the Messrs. RINEHART in relation to the taxes on Tobacco Kegs. We understand that the system which has been in use heretofore is one against which much just complaint has been made, but as all tobacco manufacturers practiced it, the purchasers had no remedy. The Messrs. RINEHART, however, are determined to reform the system as far as they are concerned, and hereafter no keg or box will be sent from their establishment with any other than correct tares. This effort to reform a great evil in their line of business deserves encouragement.

FIRE.—Yesterday forenoon a fire occurred in a frame building on Butler street, Allegheny, which was destroyed, together with another frame, before it could be extinguished. A brick which stood in the rear of the frames caught fire but was extinguished before it was very materially injured. The city engines were on the spot, and notwithstanding the great difficulty of procuring water, their efforts in protecting the surrounding property was very effective.

☞ The Age thinks it very mean to notice typographical errors, when such things are unavoidable, in a daily paper. We think so too; but the Age has certainly not been over scrupulous in this respect—almost every morning it has some fling at the errors of its contemporaries, and but lately it told the public that it was the only paper in the city that could be read! This was not at all mean—oh! no! Some time ago, an error occurred in making up our form, by which the sense of a short article was destroyed; the Age thought it perfectly right to notice it, and pronounced it the usual logic of the Post! It has over and over again stated that there was no confidence to be placed in the River reports of any other paper, and that any one who wished to be correctly informed on that subject, would have to apply to the Age. This, too, was perfectly honorable! We do not know, then, how it can talk of meanness in snapping up typographical errors, for it has itself been guilty of that "meanness" oftener than all the other papers in the city. Besides, we did not know that the error we noticed was a typographical one—for "the Captain" makes some tall "guesses," occasionally.

AFGHANISTAN.

Late political and military events in the east have compelled us, and must have compelled a great part of our readers, to feel how very slight was our knowledge, how vague our idea of the region in which English arms have received the only severe check which they have for a long time encountered in Asia. We have therefore, before ought us of copying from the able and laborious work of Mr. Darby, (his Geographical Dictionary) the general account of that country, where he had thrown together, in the brief space, (as he will generally be found to have done,) a great deal of information.

Afghanistan.—The country so denominated has been generally, but erroneously, included in Persia. The two countries differ in their civil, physical, and political characters. Following an Asiatic custom of naming a country from the predominant city or province, this country has been successively called Ghuznee or Guznee, Cabulistan, from Cabul, or Candahar, &c.

Taken in its utmost extent, Afghanistan extends from the western bounds of Herat, E. long. 56, to the eastward of Cashmere, long. 77 deg., and from the mouth of the Indus, N. lat. 24 deg. These limits would give a length from W. to E. of 1200 miles, and about 800 miles from S. to N., or an area of 960 000 square miles

The whole population is estimated at 14,000,000, consisting of the following nations;

Afghans,	4,300.000
Belooches,	1,000.000
Tartars,	1,200 000
Persians and Tunjeks,	1,500 000
Indians of different races,	5,700.000
Miscellaneous tribes,	300.000
Amount,	14,000.000

The origin of the name Afghan is uncertain. It is only through the Persian that it is known to the people themselves, and it is probably modern. Their own name for their nation is Pooshoon, or so says Malte Brun, and contradicts himself in a few sentences after, by observing that the Afghans consider themselves as descended from Afghan, the son of Jénia.

The language of the Afghans is called Pooshoo, of unknown origin, but with some affinity to some of the dialects of ancient Persia. They used the Persian alphabet, and the Persian is their learned language.

In an extent of country so large, and inhabited by nations differing in language, customs, manners, and religion, the human character must vary, but from all accounts, the people of those regions are hardy, bold and daring, and perhaps the freest of all Mahometan nations, unless we except the wandering Arabs. The Afghans prosper are, as to religion, Mahometans of the sect of Sonnites, but remarkably tolerant. The Hindoos live unmolested amongst them, practising their religious rites in perfect peace and safety.

The fact of the immense country known under the general name of Afghanistan is in great part mountainous. In the north, it has the great mountain nucleus, the Hindoo Koosh, in part covered with perpetual snow. Advancing southward, the mountains sink, but both the Indus and Kaushgar rivers from lat. 35; deg.; to 33 degrees flow through mountain gorges, through below the latter limit, the Indus has plains on both sides to the sea. The higher branches of the Oxus river rises in and drain the country of Balk, or north western Afghanistan, whilst the central and western section, comprising Cabul and Seistan, are drained by the various confluents of the Hindmund, flowing westward into the sea of Durah.

Beloochistan, although included in the general sweep of Afghanistan, is, physically at least, a very distinct country: what was more recently Beloochies, extending from Cabulistan and Seistan southward to Indian ocean. In the northern side it is mountainous, but becomes gradually more level approaching the ocean, the whole forming an inclined plane, 600 miles from east to west, and lying between N. lat 26 deg. and 33 deg., has a mean breadth of 200 miles area 120,000 square miles.

CUBA.

An arrival at Charleston furnishes the Charleston Courier with advices from Havana to the 21st ultimo. In the Havana Noticioso, of 16th inst. under the head "official," is announced the removal of the Captain General of the Island of Cuba (Valdes) and that of the Superintendent in the Financial Department (Larrua.) The former has given up the command to General Ulloa, of the Navy Department, who will be in possession of it till the arrival of the new one named (Don Leopoldo O'Donnell) who is expected from Cadiz in the Spanish frigate Cortes, which vessel was to leave about the middle of August last; and the latter to the late Superintendant Don Claudio Martinez de Pitillos, Count of Villaseava, who was hailed by the immense crowd which filled the government square.

MARRIED—On Thursday morning, the 5th inst., by the Rev. D. Presley, Mr. MORRISON KNOX to Miss SUSAN LAMONT, all of Allegheny city.

DIED.—This evening, ALEXANDER, infant son of Wm. McCandless, jr., aged thirteen months.

The friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral, from the residence of Mrs. Paul, corner of Penn and Hay streets, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

October Election.

County Commissioner.

AT the solicitation of a number of friends of all political parties, I respectfully offer myself to the consideration of my fellow-citizens for the office of County Commissioner. That my sentiments may not be misunderstood, either as to political or private affairs, I make free to say that I have been all my life a consistent Republican, in the true sense of the word. As the country is somewhat embarrassed in its financial affairs, and the reduction of salaries of public officers has received the approbation of large majorities of the people, the undersigned would not should tempt to resist this salutary reform; should it reach the office of County Commissioner.

SAMUEL HUBLEY.

Prothonotary.

To the voters of Allegheny county:—I respectfully offer myself to your consideration as a candidate (independent of parties) for the office of PROTHONOTARY of Allegheny county, at the ensuing election. As I do not come before you recommended by a Convention, those of you to whom I am not personally known will please examine into my qualifications, &c.; and if so fortunate as to obtain a majority of your suffrages, I shall endeavor by strict attention to the duties of the office, to satisfy you with your choice.

ALEX MILLAR.

Iron Safes.

I RESPECTFULLY inform the public that I have and keep always on hand an assortment of Fire Proof Safes. The price, in consequence of the materials and labor being much lower, is reduced about thirty per cent. They are kept for sale at my shop, in Sixth street, above Smithfield, next to the church on the corner of 6th street—as also with Atwood, Jones & Co., and Driscoll & Fleming. In regard to the quality of my safes I leave those persons who have purchased and will purchase my safes to attest the utility of them. I desire no newspaper puffs on my safes; justice and truth warrant me in informing the public that all my safes which have been in buildings burnt down for several years since I commenced have preserved all the papers, books, &c., which they contained. I have a card containing a number of certificates of the same, which are in circulation and in my hands and the agentes.
