Evans' Chamomile Pills.
ABRAHAM J. CLEMER, residing at 66, Mott street, New York, was afflicted with Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form. The symptoms were violent headache, great debility, fever, costiveness, rough, scurfy skin, pain in the chest and stomach always after eating, impaired appetite, sensation of sinking at the stomach, furred tongue, nausea, with frequent vomiting, dizziness towards night and restlessness. These ills continued upwards of a twelvemonth, when, on consulting Dr. Wm. Evans, 100 Chatham street, and submitting to his ever successful and agreeable mode of treatment, the patient was completely restored to health in the short space of one month, and grateful for the incalculable benefit derived, gladly came forward and volunteered the above statement For sale, wholesale and retail, by R. E. SELLERS, Agent, sep 10-y No. 20, Wood street, below Second.

Better Bargains than ever, at the Three Big Doors.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform his customers and the public generally, that notwithstanding the unprecedented sales at the Three Big Doors, during the present season he has still on hand the largest and most varied assortment of elegant CLOTHING that can be bought west of the mountains.—The public may rest assured that all articles offered at this store are manufactured from FRESH GOODS, purchased in the Eastern markets this spring and made into garments by Pittsburgh workmen.

In consequence of the multiplication of slop shops in our city, filled with pawn brokers cloth and the musty, cast off garments of former seasons, from the eastern cities, the public should be cautious to ascertain the character of the establishments in which they are invited to purchase, before they part with their money. The articles offered at several of the concerns in this city, are the mere offals of New York and Philadelphia slop shops, and sent out here to be palmed off on the Pittsburgh public. Purchasers should be on their guard against these impositions, and they may rely on the fact that no establishment that advertises eastern made Clothing, can give as good an article or as advantageous bargains as can be had at the "Three Big Doors."

The public will please remember that all the subscriber's garments are made in this city, by competent workmen, and not gathered up like the goods now offered by the "birds of passage" from the shreds and patches of eastern slop shops. It will always be his endeavor to maintain the reputation that the "Three Big Doors" have obtained for furnishing a superior style of CLOTHING in every respect, and at prices below those of any other establishment.

He would again return his thanks to his friends and the public for the unprecedented patronage bestowed upon his establishment, and believing that they have found it to their advantage to deal with him, he would repeat his invitation to all those who wish to purchase Clothing of every description at the lowest price, to call at No. 151, LIBERTY ST. JOHN M'CLOSKEY.

Look at This.
THE attention of those who have been somewhat skeptical in reference to the numerous certificates published in favor of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, on account of the persons being unknown in this Section of the State, is respectfully directed to the following certificate, the writer of which has been a citizen of this borough for several years, and is known as a gentleman of integrity and responsibility.

To the Agent, Mr. J. KIRBY.

I have used Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for a Cough, with which I have been severely afflicted for about four months, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most effective medicine that I have been able to procure. It composes all uneasiness, and agrees well with my diet,—and maintains a regular and good appetite. I can sincerely recommend it to all others similarly afflicted. J. MESSICK, Borough of Chambersburgh.

Call for Bargains
AT THE THREE BIG DOORS,
No. 151, Liberty St., near the Jackson Foundry.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public, that his fall stock of Goods comprises a larger and more varied assortment than has ever been opened at any house in this city, and from the favorable terms at which his purchases were made, he is enabled to sell clothing cheaper than it can be had in any other establishment in this city. He would request the public to call and examine his splendid assortment of all the articles of dress, and from the excellence of the material, the style of workmanship and the very low price at which all his articles are sold, he feels confident that every one will find it to their advantage to purchase at the "Three Big Doors."

As none but the best cutters and workmen are employed, orders to make clothing will be attended to in a manner not surpassed by any other establishment in the city.

He would again return his thanks to his friends and the public for the unprecedented patronage bestowed upon his establishment, and believing that they have found it to their advantage to deal with him, he would repeat his invitation to all those who wish to purchase Clothing of every description at the lowest price, to call at No. 151, Liberty st. Iron Safes.
I RESPECTFULLY inform the public that I have and keep always on hand an assortment of Fire Proof Safes. The price, in consequence of the materials and labor being much low er, is reduced about thirty per cent. They are kept for sale at my shop, in Sixth street, above Smithfield, next to the church on the corner of fifth street—as also with Atwood, Jones & Co., and Dalzell & Fleming. In regard to the quality of my safes I leave those persons who have purchased and will purchase my safes to attest the utility of them. I desire no newspaper puffs on my safes; justice and truth warrant me in informing the public that all my safes which have been in buildings burnt down for several years since I commenced have preserved all the papers, books, &c., which they contained. I have a card containing a number of certificates of the same, which are in circulation and in my hands and the agentes. JOHN DENNING.

Beware of a Settled Cough!
DR. M'LANE'S Sudorific Lung Syrup, being a safe and effectual remedy for Coughs, Catarrhal Fever, Influenza, Pleurasy, the first of forming stages of Consumption, Asthma, Whooping Cough, &c. Some dozen of certificates of its valuable effects can be produced, one of which is now offered.

This is to certify, that I had a very severe Cough all last winter, and was very much reduced. After trying medical aid to no purpose, I was advised to procure a bottle of Dr. M'Lane's Lung Syrup; it gave me relief immediately, and in two weeks I was able to go out, and fully believe it to be one of the most valuable medicine now before the public, for Cough and breast complaints. DISAPPOINTING A LANDLORD.

A landlord by the name of Screwler had managed to have the stage stop at his house for the passengers to dine, by allowing the driver, Lewis, a fee a head for each dinner eaten, and the assurance that Lewis's grub should not cost him a cent; but as the tavern was ten miles from Parker's, where the passengers had formerly dined and they did not reach it till half-past three, the landlord discovered, that, what with the per centage to Lewis, and the keen appetites of the passengers, who tasted nothing from six o'clock in the morning, he was "advancing backwards" instead of improving his purse, by the operation.

The two worthies held a consultation in which it was agreed that Lewis should be behind his time in arriving, and the landlord with his dinner—so that as soon as they had fairly commenced operations, the turn should be blown, and the passengers hurried up on the plea that the stage could wait no longer.

This game was played some time with success—the hungry passengers grumbled and scolded the fellow for an hour or so each day—but he pocketed the fees and laughed in his sleeve.

It happened about this time, that as the grumbling passengers were about leaving Parker's, the old dinner house, a stout, hearty-looking man, comfortably dressed, presented himself at the coach-door, and took a vacant place on the middle seat. There were three ladies on the back seat, three men on the front seat, and some, that an additional passenger had been taken in, three on the middle seat—making a full stage load. The new passenger was quite chatty and sociable, and well acquainted with men and things and full of anecdote. He proved quite an agreeable companion. But even his versatility and good nature failed to interest his fellow sufferers long. Hunger was too keen.

At last, Screwler's fifth-rate house was gained, and after a long and tantalizing delay, dinner was announced. The gentlemen with ladies had barely found time to help them, and then get cleverly agoing themselves to the tune of knife and fork, when

'Too-too-too-too-o-o-o-o!' rang the driver's horn at the door of the dining room—followed by his loud

'Coach right off, gentlemen! Take your seats, quick!'

Up sprang the passengers, and scrambled off, some swearing, and some too much under the fear of being left behind, to think of any thing else but getting inside the stage.

But there was one among them who was so much engaged that he did not seem to hear or see any thing of all this, until another blast rung into the door, and Boniface touched him on the shoulder, with

'The stage is going, sir!'

'But I've not half finished me dinner yet,' returned the passenger, who proved to be the one taken in at Parker's, looking up in surprise, and sputtering forth portions of food from his well-filled mouth as he spoke.

'I'm sorry for that, sir,' returned Screwler, blandly. 'But I can't help it. The driver will be off in a moment. He is behind his time now, and must be ill by a certain hour, or he will be discharged.'

'Too-too-too-o-o-o!' screamed the horn, louder than usual followed by

'All on board!' from the driver who instantly disappeared.

'He's getting on his box now, sir, and will start in a moment,' urged the landlord.

'And I've paid for my dinner! Too bad!—too bad! Well, hand me back my money! I never pay for what I do not receive.'

'I can't do that, sir. Sorry for you. But the fault is not mine. My dinner has been all prepared, and you're welcome to eat it.'

As matters were thus pressing, the passenger did not stop long to parley. Drawing from his pocket a clean white handkerchief, neatly folded as it had left the ironing table, he hastily spread it open on the table, and turning into it a fresh dish of boiled eggs, then two or three plates of bread, with sundry little nick-nackeries; he tied it up quickly, muttering to himself all the while in an under tone, 'Then poising a turkey in one hand, two roasted chickens and his well filled handkerchief in the other, he bowed to the landlord, and said—

'Good day, sir! I'll finish my dinner on the road!'

Screwler was too much surprised and confounded to interfere.

Thus equipped, the passenger made his appearance at the coach door, and crowding in, took his place on the middle seat; the ladies twittered; the men laughed or looked grave, according to their humor, but our hungry passenger seemed in no way disconcerted.

'Won't you have a dish, and a knife and fork?' asked the landlord, who had recovered his senses, and came forward, a few moments after the traveler had seated himself, with the articles he named, presenting them with a mock-polite air, inviting to dash our hero. But he was not to be thrown off his guard.

'Thank you kindly!' he said, bowing as he received the dish and carving instruments. 'I had forgotten these.'

As soon as the pair of chickens and the turkey were adjusted on the spacious dish, which the landlord already repented having put in the incorrigible traveler's way, the latter sung at the top of his voice:

'Allright, drive! Go ahead!'

Crack went the whip, and off rolled the stage, leaving Boniface vexed, angry, and yet amused at the ludicrousness of the whole scene.

As for the passengers, all shrunk instinctively from from the meat, bread, &c., which had been so liberally provided, while the ladies turned up their noses, and ejaculated in a soft low voice,

'Disgusting!'

'Holdon here, stranger, will you!' hauling the chickens and turkey. 'This confounded stage jolts at such a rate that I can't carve my turkey.' Indicating with his finger, as he spoke on one side of the spacious dish upon which reposed his provender.

The individual thus addressed, could do no less than obey the request; and then the same was made to his other neighbor, who beat the required aid.

'And now, stranger, do you hold this bread bag,' extending his clean, well-filled handkerchief to a passenger before him. He was in answer to this request, politely relieved of his bread, eggs, &c.

The dish was now supported on his knees and firmly held there by his next door neighbor, who began to enjoy the joke, as did most of the other fellow passengers. In dissecting the turkey and pair of chickens under all the disadvantageous circumstances, he showed himself a skilful carver. The different parts were nicely separated, and laid about the dish neatly, and quite temptingly. By this time, the odor of the fowls had awakened into keenness the unsatisfied appetites of the whole company, who were only waiting for an invitation to help themselves. In carving, the accomplished stranger had surrounded the edge of the dish with the pieces of turkey and chickens, leaving quite a space in the centre. Into this he emptied the contents of his pocket handkerchief, consisting of a dozen or more of boiled eggs, with bread.

'Now, ladies,' he said, lifting the dish and turning partly round, so that it rested on the taut leathern strap that formed the moveable back of the seat, and thus was fully presented them—'Help yourselves, I know you are hungry.'

The ladies looked at the tempting exhibition, colored, and hesitated.

'Don't be afraid,' he urged. 'Necessity knows
