ejectment had been served upon a cottage possessed of many comforts. A very pale fragile woman was scated upon a substantial clump bedstead with her hand closely pressed against her side, as if in pain, while tears flowed down her cheeks. Chickens of various sizes were crowded in an ancient coop, and a stout little pig had a sougan fixed to his legs, to prepare him for the road. Stools and iron pots, a dresser, delf, and wooden ware, were scattered about, and a serious looking cat was seated on the top of a potato baskot, as if uncertain whether the esteem she was heldin would compel her friends to forego the superstition and carry her with them - little thinking that they had no alternative but to exchange the free air for a wretched room in wretched Navin, which it was

Gustavus Sught, Lenry Walsh DIED .- On the 6th ult., at Mobile, Ala., MR. DAN-IEL JEFFREY, engineer, a native of La grenceville, near Pittsburgh, Pa., in the 24th year of his age. His aged father and friends who are left to mourn his early loss, may console themselves with the reflection that his remains were borne to their resting placby his friends who loved him for the big, manly heart hat dwelt within a bosom that knew no guile. That he died so young, saddens those who loved him (relatives and friends,) but so he died, with a wish to realise the grandeur of futurity, as compared with the unsatisfactory imaginings of this. It is to be hoped that he marches onward to fruition of good, unclogged by the vices which often mar the journey of those who go fearfully to answer for the "deeds done in the body," rather than lift with an unfaltering hand the dread veil hidden here from our hereafter. "Requiescat in pace."

REPRESENTING THE DEATH OF NAPOLEON AND MAD. JOSEPHINE. These paintings will elucidate the closing Lecture of

COLONEL LEHMANOWSKY, In which he will describe the memorable and his amiable consort, the lovely JOSEPHINE. Lecture to be delivered in the English Luthean Church, Seventh street, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

Francis Finzgerald HON. DANIEL STURGEON. It is not a little singular that the numerous friends o

our distinguished Senator, Dr. STURGEOR, should have permitted the canvass for Governor to proceed as far as it has done, without bringing his name in bold re lief before the people, and it can only be accounted for fro n the circumstance that a kind of battle royal is attempted to be got up between two prominent politicians of the East and West, in the hope of drawing off the public attention from the other candidates, and turning it exclusively upon these two individuals. Be ing of opinion that in point of character, consistency, talents and principle, Dr. Sturgeon is not inferior to any other individual who has been named for the office, we strongly recommend him to the public consideration Dr. Sturgeon is a western man, (if that should be deemed a "sine qua non," as it seems to be by some,) hav ing resided in the West, not one or two years, or tem porarily, in order that he might hail from the West, as occasionmight serve, but has always been a resident i Fayette county, except when called elsewhere by hi public duties Dr. Sturgeon has served in many elevated stations in the Commonwealth, and has comported himself in all in such a manner as conduced greatly to his own cred it and the public welfare. He was for many years in the State and National Legislatures, and acted for long period as State Treasurer, in which last office, de ring the famous Buckshot war, he evinced great firm ness of purpose, and singular intrepidity and pruden as without these the Treasury would, in all probabili ty, have been given over to public plunder, such having been the intention of the leaders in that atrocious cor spiracy against the public liberties, and the most infa mous means having been used to intimidate Dr. Stur geon into a surrender of the Treasury into their hands, c subjecting himself to their illegal orders. Unless w are disposed entirely to lose sight of the patriotism diplayed on that occasion, and the numerous instances of talent and usefulness exhibited by Dr. Sturgeon on ma ny others, we shall look to him as the Western candi date for the office, and with a little resolution and ad dress, can render him the nominee of the Convention The notion that Allegheny county must have a candi date is an absurd one, and will probably be frowned down by the counties around us; but if the democracy of this county, governed by a high and liberal spirit should place in nomination a man like Dr. Sturgeor they would gain the confidence of the adjacent count reconcile the whole state to their views, and confer a essential and enduring benefit on the publ AN ALLEGHENY COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

STEAMER BRISTOL.—This boat, represented as lost, has arrived at Mobile. The Herald says that the Bristol on her downward passage struck upon a bar, and her bow swinging into deep water, and owing to the great quantity of cotton forward, straining some of her buts, she commenced leaking, and in a short time had some two feet water in her hold. The cottor however, was immediately removed—and the strain being taken off, the boat was easily pumped dry again and got off. But a few bales of cotton were damaged.
