Dublis, January 3, 1314. One of the conspirators, the Rev Mr Tyrell, has fallen a martyr to the illegal proclamation which scat-tored the Clontarf meeting. On receipt of intelligence late on the memorable Saturday night, that such a proclamation was issued, the Rev Gentlemen travelled about from place to place during the whole of the night, to warn the multitude from attending at the pro-scribed field on the ensuing Sunday In this extraordinary effort he caught a latal cold which grew to fever, and terminated his cureer. His death is viewed by all as a martyrdom.
