ntlemen, we are charged with inciting to and what is the proof offered? You have garbled speeches of mine read to you; but do any intention of mine to incite to violence? is there one that does not inculcate peace ? ays been my greatest effort and that has been e you by my prosecutors. Two principles used me through life, and they have been put world. They have been inscribed upon your and I avow them now. The first is that "He mits a crime gives strength to the enemy," boldly; it is mine. And the second is "That advantage we obtain it must be obtained is shedding of a single drop of blood." Gennat has been the theory of my whole life. I ther forego any advantage than that one drop blood should be shed. I have said it fifty have bossed of it-I have proclaimed it as ever public man proclaimed it—I have stood motimes in disclaiming, in the most direct intention to resort to physical force. I have id it in all times, and under all contingancies other contingencies I have always said that gle drop of human blood should be shed. It gie drop of interest of the state of the sta human blood was shed; I proclaimed this feel-ny part in the cause of Cathelic emancipution. ny part in the cause of Children was a ucceeded with emancipation by the mighty sist wer of that principle. Look, gentlemen of the the pust history and progress of emancipation to the settlement of that question. Not one blood was spilled in obtaining it. Look to be a which have hit serte been made, and will ggles which have hit serte been made, and, will made in the cause of repeal. Not one drop of as been shed! And is it right—is it wise to ot a man in such a peaceful career? Is it right upt a man in such a peaceful career? Is it right to interrupt a man who has ever laid down this ple as the basis of his public ronduct? Is it right ne out and call that the conduct of a conspirator of the himlike a man who had tosorted to forcions? Oh, gentlemen, I belong to a Christian asion, the grand principle of which is that the ity of advantage—no quantity of herefit or advantage—to the state itself—as, not even testle can be permitted to be assued as the ven itself, can be permitted to be sarved at the se of any crime whatever; that no moral offence see of any crime whatever; that no moral ouence, set only not be justified, or even as much as palliage, any amount of advantage so obtained: and if I any co-believer in that box, I need not repeat that inc, because he will have professed that documents. But why should I, as a Christian man, present one thing and practice another? But, gentles of the jury, you cannot believe it. No, the tance y life shows the sincerity with which I made the ncement-I have aurounced it over and over -I have announced it so often that I say so curtance of my life can leave you to doubt the y of my avowal.

y lord, it has appeared sufficiently in the newsrs—my lord, no man ever possessed so much pubmandence as I have. I say I possesse it, and no ever possessed itso long, so unreservedly. I have ned the confidence of the Roman Catholic laity of James 14
