(From the Dem. Union.) MARTIN VAN BUREN'S COURSE DURING THE LAST WAR.

We must bbssrve, however, that though this evinces an honorable disposition to adhere to the truth in the matter referred to, and shews Col Stone an honest witmess when called upon, yet it only does Mr Van Eu-The justice so far as it goes, by replying truly to the squestions propounded in the letter of his whig friends, induced to make a public acknowledgment of the benefit my wife has derived from your invaluable pills.—

ANSWER. We prefer giving a public answer to the foregoin tion, made, we doubt not, in good faith, for several reasons. Principal smoong these is the restriction of the first streng desire we have that justice should be done to all men, and we think that Mr Van Buren has not been less the whole of the flesh was cut off, and the bone less the whole of the flesh was cut off, and the bone men and we think that Mr Van Buren has not been less the whole of the flesh was cut off, and the bone less the whole of the flesh was cut off, and the bone man and we think that Mr Van Buren has not been less the whole of the flesh was cut off, and the bone less the whole of the flesh was cut off. fairly dealt by in the matters referred to. It is true, scraped. Thank a kind Providence this made us rethat Mr Van Buren was one of the early supporters sort to your pills, which saved us from all further mis-of Mr Clinton for the office of President in the year ery, and for which we hope to be thankful. 1812, in opposition to Mr Madison, that he took part in the republican legislative caucus of which Mr C. was first nominated. That caucus was held, and that in this state were then held in April, and the political three B. Brandreth upon it. not, of course, a member of the Legislature that made the nomination. His Senatorial term commenced on the first Monday of July; and he first took his seat at the extra session held in November, to choose the Presidential Electors.

Furthermore, it is also true, that Mr Clinton became the candidate of "the peace party." Yet it is not truethat he was originally nominated as such, or that Mr Van Buren, after taking his seat in the Legislature, supported him assuch. He (Mr C.) was in fact, driven into that position by the force of circumstances; and it is no more than justice to Mr Van Buren to say that after Mr Clinton became identified with the peace party as their candidate, his support of him became languid. Indeed, we have reason to believe that he thenceforth threw his influence, as far as he could do so. considering the previous committal of the legislative caucus, which he held to be binding upon the party, in behalf of Mr Madison. The truth is, Mr Clinton was never nominated or supported expressly upon the ground that the crisis demanded a more vigorous arm at the helm of state than Mr Madison's. The war had not been actually declared, it is true, but every intelligent man saw that it was inevitable, and very near, and it was fedred, as the result proved, that under Mr Madison's administration i would be feebly conducted. Believing thus, that the times demanded an executive of greater energy and force of character, the attention of many patrioti men of both political parties, was directed elsewhere than to Virginia for a candidate; and from the high intellectual qualities of Mr Clinton, and the acknowledged energy of his character, it was concuired that he would prosecute the impending contest with great vigor, and bring it to a more speedy and honorable close than could be done by Mr Madison. This was the ground upon which he was nominated and upon which he was supported by Mr Van Buren.

and such of the old republican party as adhered to him through the contest. As to the opinions and conduct of Mr Van Buren in the early stages of the war, we harmony with the majority of the people of this State, even of his own party at the time; for it must here be borne in mind that a very decided majority of the representatives in Congress from the State of New York—with Obadiah German in the Senate at their head—voted against the declaration of war, not, however, that they held the contest to be unjust, but they believed the country wholly unprepared for war at the time, and consequently that the declaration was supported by the time, and consequently were the original views of her Van Buren—such, certainly were the views of

But, the war having been declared, it is due to Mr Van Buren to say, that no public man in the State supported it more thoroughly, heartily, and zealously throughout, than he did. Such, we know, is not the received opinion in many parts of the counese attempts making, in the presses opposed to him, to render him anpopular by charging him with opposition to the war itself, as well as to Mr Madison. But

Many of our political friends will scowl upon us, we know, for our frankness on this occasion. But we care nec for that. "Justice to all men," is our maxim, and we wish not to beat even Mr Van Buren by falsehood We have, indeed, truth enough at our command to do that with.
