Evans' Chamomile Pills.

ABRAHAM J. CLEMER, residing at 66, Mott street, New York, was afflicted with Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form. The symptoms were violent headache, great debility, fever, costiveness, cough, heartburn, pain in the chest and stomach always after eating, impaired appetite, sensation of sinking at the stomach, furred tongue, nausea, with frequent vomitings, dizziness towards night and restlessness. These had continued upwards of a twelvemonth, when, on consulting Dr. Wm. Evans, 100 Chatham street, and submitting to his over successful and agreeable mode of treatment, the patient was completely restored to health in the short space of one month, and grateful for the incalculable benefit derived, gladly came forward and volunteered the above statement. Look at This.

THE attention of those who have been somewhat sceptical in reference to the numerous certificates published in favor of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, on account of the persons being unknown in this Section of the State, is respectfully directed to the following certificate, the writer of which has been a citizen of this borough for several years, and is known as a gentleman of integrity and responsibility.

To the Agent, Mr. J. KIRBY.

I have used Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for a Cough, with which I have been severely afflicted for about four months, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most effective medicine that I have been able to procure. It composes all uneasiness, and agrees well with my diet,—and maintains a regular and good appetite. I can sincerely recommend it to all others similarly afflicted. J. MINICK, Borough of Chambersburgh

TWENTY-FOUR DAYS LATER!

VERDICT OF GUILTY AGAINST O'CONNELL!!

The British Mail Steamer Caledonia, Capt Lott, arrived at Boston at 10 o'clock, A M Friday, having left Liverpool at 11½ on the 5th March. She arrived at Halifax at 6 A M on the 20th, left at 1 P M; was detained off Boston light 8 hours by thick fog. She brings 67 passengers.

The Commercial news is unimportant. Money continues abundant, and interest only 2 per cent. Cotton has been slightly depressed by the Manchester spinners' combination to buy light and work short time.

The only important item of news is the finding a verdict of Guilty against O'Connell and his compatriots by a packed Tory jury. It excited a profound sensation. It was rendered on the 12th, and the Court immediately adjourned to the 15th. Judgment will be pronounced at the ensuing term, unless delayed by motions for arrest of judgment, which are to be offered.

It is already evident that the Government dare not proceed to extremities. It is stated that the Duke of Wellington has already intimated that O'Connell is not to be sent to prison, or otherwise punished, the moral effect of a conviction being sufficient.

Mr O'Connell has protested against the verdict, and has intimated that so soon as the sentence shall have been passed, he will have the matter submitted to the whole body of Judges in Ireland, and that, if their decision should be unfavorable, he will appeal to the House of Lords before he will submit.

Two public dinners are spoken of as likely to be given to Mr O'Connell, in London. One, over which Mr. Duncombe, the member for Finsbury, will preside, will take place at Covent Garden.

The Editors of the Dublin Repeal papers have formally resigned as members of the Repeal Association, in consequence of the verdict against O'Connell and his associates, and the legal assumptions on which it is based.

A new Dublin paper announces, in its prospectus, that "foreign Parliamentary reports will be given until the Irish Parliament is restored."

The Anti-Corn-law League Meetings continue to be held weekly in Covent Garden Theatre. Mr O'Connell attended the meeting held on Wednesday week, and received a welcome which the word "enthusiastic" but feebly describes. He made a strong speech against the Corn Laws, and he alluded in a very facetious manner to the new association being obliged to consult a white witch, (anglice a lawyer) in the Temple, on the law of "conspiracy" before they could proceed.

The usual weekly meeting of the Repeal Association was held on the 26th ult: in the Conciliation Hall, the chair was occupied by John O'Connell, Esq. M. P. He addressed the meeting at considerable length, expressing his gratitude to the people of England for the deep feeling of sympathy which they had manifested towards the traversers, and the feeling of indignation which had been stirred up by the unfair conduct of Government towards them. He was not prepared for such a manifestation of manly English feeling. He referred to the reception of his father at the Anti-Corn Law League meeting, which was the most enthusiastic he ever witnessed in his life.

THE VERDICT AGAINST O'CONNELL.

The charge of the Lord Chief Justice in the great conspiracy case was very strongly adverse to them on the law points, but otherwise moderate and fair. The papers were given to the Jury at half past 5 o'clock on the 10th, and at 10 minutes to 11 that night the verdict was rendered. We quote the report of the trial as follows:

At ten minutes to eleven o'clock, Mr. Justice Crampton returned to Court, and the jury were thereupon called to their box.

The Foreman—My lord, are we to give our verdict on each count of the indictment?

Judge Crampton—If you please, gentlemen,

Foreman—Are we obliged to give our verdict on every count?

Judge Crampton—Yes.

Foreman—Whether we agree or not?

Justice Crampton—Yes; but you must understand me. If you are agreed upon each count, or upon all the counts, you are only to say not guilty or guilty—if you agree upon some, you will state those upon which you are agreed, and the names of the traversers with respect to whom you have agreed.

Foreman—And take no notice of the others?

Judge Crampton—Oh, gentlemen, there ought to be a finding on the whole of them.

The Jury then withdrew.

At twelve minutes past eleven, the Jury came into Court.

The Clerk of the Crown said—Gentlemen, have you all agreed upon your verdict?

The Foreman—Yes. (Great sensation in the Court.)

The finding of the Jury was then handed to the Clerk of the Crown, which that officer read aloud;

On the first count, no finding.

On the second count, no finding.

On the third count, that Daniel O'Connell, Richard Barnett, and Charles Gavin Duffy, are Guilty.

On the fourth count, that Daniel O'Connell, John O'Connell, Thomas Matthew Ray, John Gray, Thomas Steele, and Charles Gavin Duffy, are Guilty.

On the fifth count, that Daniel O'Connell, John O'Connell, Thomas Matthew Ray, John Ray, Thomas Steele, Charles Gavin Duffy, and Thomas Tierney, are Guilty.

On the sixth count, no finding.

On the seventh count, that Daniel O'Connell, John M'Connell, Thomas Matthew Ray, John Gray, Thos, Steele, and Charles Gavin Duffy, are Guilty.

On the eighth count no finding.

On the ninth count, no finding.

On the Tenth count, that Daniel O'Connell, John O'Connell, Thomas Matthew Ray, Thomas Steele, John Gray, and Charles Gavin Duffy, are Guilty.

On the eleventh count, no finding.

Mr. Justice Crampton—You must take your verdict back, for in the present state it is imperfect in some of the counts—in respect of which you have come to no conclusion as to the guilt or innocence of the traversers. It is your duty to find a verdict of guilty or not guilty; and if you cannot come to an agreement on any count or counts, you ought to say so in your verdict. As to all those counts upon which you are agreed, you are to say some of the defendants are guilty, and some not. You are to name those whom you find guilty, and those whom you say are not. As to any count on which you are not agreed, you ought to state, we have not agreed on this count." If you are able to arrive at the conclusion of guilty or not guilty on all the counts, it will be your duty so to do. With respect to the first count, if I understand you correctly, there are parts of it on which you are not agreed, and parts on which you are agreed.

A Juryman—No, my lord, we are agreed on the first count; there is no difference of opinion among the jury; it is merely the wording of the finding that we are at a loss for.

The jury having retired.

The Attorney General said the jury were not bound to find. The first count embraces the several branches of the conspiracy, which are split up afterwards in other words, and if they are of opinion that the several traversers or any of them are guilty, of course they will decide on each portion of the first count as they think they should find.

Mr Moore—I am not desirous of saying any thing in the way of argument, but on the part of one of the traversers, I certainly object to the direction.
