A correspondent of the Philadelphia Sentinel gives the following sketch of the progress of chivalry in Vicksburgh.:— "There are two newspapers published in Vicksburg —the Whig and the Sentinel. A deadly war seem-ed to have been waged for a number of years between their varisus editors, which have resulted in killing some and maiming others. A few years ago, Dr. Ha-with rifles, and Flagg fought in the stroets of Vicksburgh Whig, and wounded him severely. Subsequently, Hagan, and Flagg fought in the stroets of Vicksburgh with rifles, and Flagg was wounded. After Dr. Hataugan, and Flagg fought in the stroots of Vicksburgu with rifles, and Flagg was wounded. After Dr. Ha-gan's departure for-Europe, Fall, his editor proteom, fought and wounded Robins, cashier of the Commer-cial and Rail-road Bank. When Hagan returned, he, himself, was killed by some individual whose futher had been astronged changes the cultures of the Santi Dr. Benjamin Brandreth:-Honored Sir, owing to you a debt of gratitude that money cannot fiy, I am induced to make a public acknowledgment of the ben-ofit my wife has derived from your invaluable pills. himself, was killed by some individual whose tatter of the wife has derived from your invaluable phis. had been attacked through the columns of the Senti-ucl.
