their unpopular schemes by coupling them with the alm democrats who understood the game. But on what might be considered a direct vote on the tariff question, every member in the house voted for it, exsont Mr SPACEMAN, a WHIG from Philadelphia. It is absurd to say that any of the democratic memtoo honestly devoted to the welfare of their constitu-

The Gazette asks us to publish Mr Clay's letters on the Tariff entire, and not extracts from them. This is modest. We have already twice published his letter to Meriweather, entire, in our daily and weekly, and his letter to Bronson, and have repeatedly called upon the Gazette and his supporters in this region. either to defend the opinions which he has expressed in regard to a Tariff, or to abandon the assumption of his being the Tariff candidate. All this time the Gazette remained quiet, not daring to vindicate the opinions of its candidate; and now after having these letters thrust at it for months and held up before it every day, it very coolly asks us again to publish them!

As to Mr Van Buren's opinions on a Tariff, we should be very glad if the Gazette would publish them in conmeetion with the recent letters of Mr Clay. It would have the effect of placing the question correctly before the people, and exposing the hypocrisy of the whigs in assuming to be the exclusive friends of a Tariff. But this, we venture to say, the Gazette will not

The extract which it publishes from a letter of Mr. Van Buren, will not avail it. Nothing in that letter can be construed into an hostility to a Tariff, but only to the Law of 1812, which Mr Clay himself han never yet approved, but on the contrary, has urged its modification if any "defects or ex cesses" were found

Mr Van Buren voted for the Tariff of 1828, which was the most Protective Tariff we ever had, and Mr Clay brings forward that vote to show the south that Mr V. B. is more of a tariff man than himself! In Mr Van Buren avows himself friendly to a Tariff, in the plainest and most satisfactory manner, and his votes and conduct during his political life proclaim him a much move decided advocate of that measure than the whig candidate.

"We have a proposition to make to the editor o the" Gazette. If he will show that Mr Van Buren has ever said or written on this subject, any thing so hostile to the protection of American industry, as is contained in the following extract from a speech of MrClay delivered at the extra session, we will acknowledge that the whigs are not so dishonest and hypecritical as we have heretofore thought them:

"Carry out the principles of the Compromise Act. Look to revenue alone for the support of Government. Do not raise the question of protection which I had hoped had been put to rest. There is no necessity for protection."

We find the following in the Sun of yesterday: "WHO SHALL DECIDE! The Post of yesterday morning makes out, by the aid of figures, that section boats have to pay $34 more toll on the Portage Rail Way, than other boats.

On the other hand, the Hollidaysburg Standard,

"Boats in four sections when passing the Allaghe ny Portage Railroad on Trucks owned by individuals ere not now required to pay $21 40 more toll, motive power, and charge for use of boat slips per trip, than was charged to boats passing on State Trucks under the administration of John B. Butler." "We have a good deal of confidence in the Standard's judgement, for the editor knows all about these things, and we would like to know how these counter ments are to be reconciled."

If the editor will look at our statement again he will find that he has committed a great mistake in giving the result of our calculations. Our statement was, that the section boats had to pay $34 00 over and above the old system, every trip they make from 10's Yates County Bank, Penn. Yan. N Y Pittsburgh to Philadelphia and back. This is 10's Bank or Liagreoury, v. 10's North Kingston Bank R I. proven incontestibly by a calculation from the toll that which we published on Thursday, and which is 5's Northern Bank of Kentucky. esteemed by these acquainted with such matters a fair 10's R I Union Bank, Newport. statement of the facts in the case.

The statement of Mr. DAUGHERTY, of the Standard, is a little fling on his own account at the old Board, and is entirely irrelevant to the exposition of the toll 5's Mechanics' Bank, city and county of Philadelphia and is entirely irrelevant to the exposition of the toll list which we published.

The American brags about having published the shan so pronounce it a koax as he did some very important news a short time since, which was published falls but little short of $3,000,000. MANUNOTIVE RAILWAY CARRIAGE.-The Lindon Railway Times states that a railway car propelled by the hand, is in use upon the London and Graydon Railway. It is light and elegant in its appearance, and will carry seven or eight persons at the rate of eighteen miles an hour.
