TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 2, 1844. HORRIBLE MURDER ! A Woman and her child murdered by her husba -kieattempt to sommit suiside.

It is our painful duty to record one of the most hor rible murders that has ever happened in our city Yestenday morning between 7 and 8 o'clock, a man by the name of Charles Diehl, a Painter in the employ of Mr Spears, and Hving on Sixth street, opposite the Episcopal ebusch, murdered his wife and one child; horribly mutilated another, and a third (the eldest child, a girl,) only saved her life by flight. He was of intemperate habits, was in destitute circumstances, and it is said was partially deranged for some weeks past. His victims are horribly mangled; the forehead of the woman, down to the eyes, was literally smashed as wasalso the back part of the head of the child .--The other child it is thought will not survive the injuries it has received. The sight of the mangled body of the woman in the wretched house where they lived, every thing around bearing the marks of wretchedness poverty and crime, presented the most painful spectacle we ever beheld, and such as we never wish to look U. S. MAIL STEAMER LITTLE BEN, CAPT. upon again. 'It was a terrible warning to the internperate and vicious, and could not but make the most hardened shudder.

After perpetrating the revolting butchery of his family, he attempted to commit suicide by cutting his The splendid passenger steam boat LITTLE BEN, Capt. Thacker, will throat and striking himself on the head with a flat-iron.
