The principal of these suits is that of Sally Miller vs John F Miller,— The plaintiff, in her petition for a trial, represents that she is a hative of Germany, of honest purentage and legitimate hirth; that in early infancy her parents omigrated to Louisiann; that they soon after died, while she (Sally) was yet of tender age, and too young either to assort or be aware of her rights; that she was illegally and feloniously seized by John F Miller; was converted and seized as a slave—her natural liberty was debarred her—she was made to hold a place with negroes and those bound to servitude, and in every manner treated as a slave. For more than twenty years, manner trented as a slave. For more than twenty years, the alleges, she suffered the hardships and privations imposed only on the African race, and, as she believes, to the knewledge and by the direct instrumentality of the said John F Miller, who did well know of her free birth, and who, in defiance of all law and in outrage of all moral obligation, did inflict on her wrongs which we like any allegiate and we remuneration adversarian which no time can alleviate and no remuneration adewhich no time can alleviate and no remuneration adequately compensate.
