Arguments must be addressed to their reason, and not to their fears or passions. Their conscience, their moral feelings must be satisfied, not their secular interests alone. Many of these persons, though warmly attached to whig principles, and anxious for their success, cannot believe that Mr Clay is the proper man nd he supported by the anti-locofoco party at the next election. They have STRONG MORAL and political objections to him, and these must be removed be-fore they can conscientiously support him. It is not wise, then, to force him upon the party, when other men can be found to whom there are no such objeclons, and whom all can consistently support."

Can the editor of the Tribune or his "native of France" refute these charges? They are not made by a "locofoco" nor an abblition paper, but by an editor whose pointical honesty, consistency and disinterested sentional designation was Mao—a term whose radix is the man who had the pistol, and turned him so much, support of the coorcandidate, will be endorsed by fif- found in the Erse language to be synonymous with recens respectable wings as can be found in the State of Pounsylvania, and titili, corroborated by his late partner.
