GOOD SOCIETY IN EUROPE.

It will [illegible] from Mr Walsh [illegible] dogs have [illegible] Europe. The coons are making the very same progress in [illegible] society in this country. It is well to observe that, where these quadrupeds get up into good livings, the great mass of the people starve, and go down. Here "roast beef" was promised to the people, but their appetites were cheated:

"In one of the British magazines of this month (the Dublin University, I think) is an ingenious lecture on the connexion of zoology with civilization: and the writer deals roughly with the eastern nations that have worshipped animals. He is quite angry with the deification of Apis and Ibis; but has overlooked the adoration of the canine race in the capitals of modern civilization—London and Paris. The interest and care lavished on dogs, by both sexes—by many thousands of the most refined and exalted—exceed whatever their own kind inspire and obtain. A morning party was given, last week, by the fashionable Countess of Castelane, to a host of the lap dogs belonging to her numerous and splendid acquaintance, on formal invitation, by name, addressed to the fortunate owners.—The dejeune proved luxurious and costly, and spaniels and greyhounds and all sorts of pet curs and curesses, found the feast so abundant that they did not even snarl at each other. Most of the mistresses were present with a manifestation of as much pride in their pets and delight in the scene as the fondest mothers would show at the assemblages of their young offspring. The annexed paragraph is authentic:

"In a will bequeathing property to a large amount, respecting which a suit is now pending before the Court Royale, there is the following clause, which, it appears, is not disputed: 'My express desire being that none of the domestic animals which shall belong to me at my death shall be either sold or abandoned, I apply, to the person who shall have charge of them the annual sum of 750fr. for each horse, 150fr. for each dog, and 75fr. for each cat, so long as they shall live.'"

JOHN B. CUMMINS THE MURDERER AND SUICIDE.

The last act of this sad domestic drama, as we informed our readers in our sheet of Saturday, took place late on Friday evening. It appears that he had found in his cell in the Parish prison, an old round pointed table knife, and determined not to await a trial for the murder of his wife, he sharpened it on the floor, and cutting through the skin of his neck, he thrust the weapon into his throat, turning it as a screw in order to make assurance doubly sure. It has been said that he severed the caroted artery, which if true must have caused his death in a few seconds.

John B. Cummins and his wife Elizabeth were originally from Philadelphia. She was the daughter of George West, living on the Northern Liberty Road, and they were married about eight years ago, she being about 15 years old. From some information he had received, as we learn according to revelations made by him to Lieut. Morell, he suspected that his wife had been criminally intimate with an individual in that city, and to draw her away from the scene of his dishonor, he induced her to go with him to Liverpool. From thence they came hither on the Lawrence, he as a sailor and she as a stewardess, but as if destiny had conspired to thwart his plans, no sooner was he arrived at New Orleans than he found the very man who he conceived had injured him present to meet him, and who, as he alleges, threatened to cut his throat. Infuriated, he proposed to his wife that they should immediately proceed to New York; she resisted, desiring to go to her mother at Philadelphia. Torn by contending emotions he determined to destroy her and then himself. As our readers are aware he fulfilled his bloody intentions in part on Thursday night, cutting his wife's throat while she was asleep in bed. From this time until arrested, he wandered about half distracted, and in prison certainly exhibited all the outward emotions of a man whose mind was perfectly unhinged—whose heart was out of joint.

A few hours previous to his consummating the last act of this fearful tragedy, he gave Lieut. Morell a letter to be put in the Post Office addressed to the individual who first suggested doubts of his wife's fi[illegible] and charged the Lieutenant to keep secret th[illegible] of this person from all the world.

Mrs Cummings was an exceedingly hands[illegible] man, and perhaps, as it too often happens in [illegible] life, her charms led to her ruin.

"Beauty is a snare!" says the old proverb; and w[illegible] add that it is almost invariably, when unaccompanied by prudence, a most fa[illegible] exercising occasionally its influence to the desp[illegible] of both soul and body of its possessor. And [illegible] bow down before it also, as in the case be[illegible] are often involved in the ruin which befalls it, for [illegible] we are taught, although "love be strong as death, [illegible] jealousy cruel as the grave."—N. O. Republican.

And that I'm sure is fair;
Tell them to paint a handsome blue
If they want to sell their ware.

Then let the Printer have the news,
He'll spread it anon,
Hear what he says respecting Shoes
Cain's just been getting on.

He has every size and color too,
The Price I soon will tell;
I'm sure it would astonish you,
To see how fast they sell.

For thirty-seven cents they go,
And by the thousand too;
They always sell so very low,
At the store that's painted blue.

Cain's fancy shoes are very neat—
He make's them to the measure,

DENNING'S FIRE PROOF IRON CHESTS.
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22, 1842.
J Denning: On Friday, the 30th of last month, about 9 o'clock at night, the Planing, Grooving, and Sash Manufactory, owned by Gay, Dilworth & Co., with a large quantity of dressed and undressed lumber, was all consumed by fire.
The Iron Safe which I bought of you some time back was in the most exposed situation during the fire, and was entirely red hot. I am pleased to inform you it was opened at the close of the fire, and all books, papers, &c., saved;—this is the best recommendation I can give of the utility of your safes.

La! what makes your teeth so unusually white?
Quoth Josh's dulcinia to him t'other night,
To make yourn look so, with a grin, replied Josh,
I've bought you a bottle of Thorn's Tooth Wash,
'Tis the best now in use, so the gentlefolks say,
And since they have tried this, cast all others away.
But to prove it the best to make the teeth shine,
Look again, my dear Sal, at the lustre of mine.
Then try this great tooth wash,
The Teaberry tooth wash,
And see if this tooth wash of Thorn's is not fine.

Having tried Dr. "Thorn's Tea Berry Tooth Wash," and become acquainted with the ingredients of its composition, I cheerfully say, I consider it one of the safest, as it is one of the most pleasant tooth washes now in use. DAVID HUNT, Dentist.
Pittsburgh, Sept. 15, 1842.

I take pleasure in stating, having made use of "Thorn's Tea Berry Tooth Wash," that it is one of the best dentrifices in use. Being in a liquid form it combines neatness with convenience. While it cleanses the enamel and removes the tartar from the teeth, its perfume yields a fragrance peculiarly desirable.
J. P. TIBBETTS, M. D.

The undersigned have used "Thorn's Compound Tea Berry Tooth Wash," and have found it to be an extremely pleasant dentrifice, exercising a most salutary influence over the Teeth and Gums; preserving those indispensable members from premature decay, preventing the accumulation of Tartar, and purifying the Breath. Having thoroughly tested its virtues, we take pleasure in recommending it to the public, believing it to be the best article of the kind now in use.

WARRANTED GENUINE.—Dr. William Evans's Camomile Pills,
CERTIFICATES.—Letter from the Hon. Abraham M'Clellan, Sullivan County, East Tennessee, Member of Congress.
WASHINGTON, July 3d, 1838.
Sir.—Since I have been in this city I have used some of your Dyspeptic medicine with infinite benefit and satisfaction, and believe it to be a most valuable remedy. One of my constituents, Dr. A. Carden, of Campbell county Tennessee, wrote to me to send him some, which I did, and he has employed it very successfully in his practice and says it is invaluable. Mr. Johnson, your agent at this place, thinks you would probably like an agent in Tennessee. If so, I would recommend Dr. A Carden, as a proper person to officiate for the sale of your celebrated medicine. Should you commission him he is willing to act for you. You can send the medicine by water to the care of Robert King & Sons, Knoxville county, Tennessee, or by land to Graham & Houston, Tazwell, East Tennessee. I have no doubt but if you had agents in several counties in East Tennessee, a great deal of medicine would be sold. I am going to take some of it home for my own use, and that of my friends, and should like to hear from you whether you would like an agent at Blountville, Sullivan County, East Tennessee; I can get some of the merchants to act for you as I live near there.
Yours respectfully,
ABRAHAM M'CLELLAN, of Tennessee.

Facts.
Having been afflicted for nearly two years, with a hard swelling on the cap of my knee, which produced much pain, and used various applications recommended by the faculty—all in vain, was cured completely by the use of one bottle of Dr. Brandreth's linament, or external remedy.
Witness my hand, JAMES TAYLOR.
Ohio tp., Allegheny co. Pa. Jan. 10, 1840.
Dr. Brandreth's external remedy or liniment; sold at the store of GEORGE H. LEE, Pittsburgh, price 50 cents per bottle. feb 8.

Look at This.
THE attention of those who have been somewhat sceptical in reference to the numerous certificates published in favor of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, on account of the persons being unknown in this Section of the State, is respectfully directed to the following certificate, the writer of which has been a citizen of this borough for several years, and is known as a gentleman of integrity and responsibility.
To the Agent, Mr. J. Kirby.
I have used Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for a Cough, with which I have been severely afflicted for about four months, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most effective medicine that I have been able to procure. It composes all uneasiness and agrees well with my diet,—and maintains a regular and good appetite. I can sincerely recommend it to all others similarly afflicted. J. MINNICK, Borough of March 9, 1840. Chambersburgh.

BARON VON HUTCHELER HERB PILLS
These Pills are composed of herbs, which exert a specific action upon the heart, give impulse or strength to the arterial system; the blood is quickened and equalized in its circulation through all the vessels, whether of the skin, the parts situated internally, or the extremities; and as all the secretions of the body are drawn from the blood, there is a consequent increase of every secretion, and a quickened action of the absorbent and exhalent, or discharging vessels. Any morbid action which may have taken place is corrected, all obstructions are removed, the blood is purified, and the body resumes a healthful state.
