

FOR GOVERNOR.

H. A. MUEHLBERG.

THE PHILADELPHIA RIOTS.—We are happy to announce that the fearful scenes that prevailed in Philadelphia during the greater part of last week have been suppressed, and the alarmed citizens now enjoy comparative security. These outrages have left a dark and terrible stain upon our national honor, and will long furnish the enemies of a republican government with arguments against our institutions, which unfortunately for us cannot be refuted. The revolting fact is too plainly established, that in the face of the civil authority, in the face of the armed militia, a ruthless mob was permitted to apply the incendiary torch to churches and dwellings, to murder and pillage and to commit every enormity that their hell-governed feelings could devise. Murder and arson swept through the city in broad day, and hid defiance to the civil and military powers.

The passionate conduct of the authorities of Philadelphia has left a lasting disgrace upon the city, and made its holiday soldiers, just objects for their scorn and contempt of the whole world. Instead of taking prompt measures to check the progress of the outrage, and make the instigators feel the power of the law, they endeavored to coax the outlaws to desert from further violence, and thought by soft words to calm an infuriated mob that had been made wolf in its first ramp of blood. The ruffians laughed at their cowardice, and within reach of their bayonets and the grasp of the police men, went on with their work of destruction.

All hopes in the energy of the military and civil authorities being lost, and the mad fury of the mob becoming more terrible when they found the large city that was granted them by those whose duty it was to protect the lives and property of the citizens, a call was made on the Governor, who with a promptness deserving of all praise, repaired to Philadelphia on the instant, and adopted immediate measures to stop the further progress of the outlaws.

Before the arrival of the Governor, however, the mob had become so wild in their conduct, that they had exhausted their resources, and were now reduced to a state of comparative safety, as long as the energetic arrangements the Governor made for its protection are observed, the rioters will not dare to attempt any fresh violence, but we think the citizens may well feel alarm for their safety when they have no better protection than the assistance of authorities that are now in office.

FACTS OF THE PHILADELPHIA RIOTS.—The property destroyed by the Philadelphia mob is estimated as follows:—Catholic Churches, 2 do. School Houses, 2 do. dwellings of the Clergy, 1 Seminary, 61 two and three story buildings of the Irish Catholics, and 1 Market-House.—Total, $350,000. Every cent of which the county of Philadelphia will have to pay.

SIGNS OF A RIOT IN NEW YORK.—A call of meeting of the Native Americans was issued in New York on Thursday, to take place in the Park that afternoon, to express their approval of the course of the authorities in Philadelphia. There being a prospect that the meeting would lead to riots in that city the Mayor promptly interposed, and the meeting was indefinitely postponed. The New York A. M. of Thursday says:—“We learn that numbers of persons belonging to this city have expressed a determination to visit Philadelphia, and join the Native American Society to take place, and should the Native American Society attempt to exterminate by all means, the opposing party.”

A FEW FACTS AND FIGURES.—We are constantly and excitedly told by the press, that there is not the smallest chance for us at the next Presidential election; that all the elections are going against us, and that they will succeed to a certainty. Upon what foundation they base this present belief puzzles us to know. Indeed, we are disposed to think it is but a part of the grand scheme of the press, to mislead the public, and by their false and insidious hints to his followers. But that they may see how groundless their opinions are, we refer them to a few facts and figures. New England is regarded as the stronghold of federalism; they have for years held almost undisputed sway in that portion of the country, and unless they succeed in carrying New England in the coming political contest, according to the usual course, they stand the completion of these States as compared with 1840. The following is a statement of the result of the last general election in the New England States, and the count of another election will ruin the count.

Table with 2 columns: State and Whig majority. Rows include Maine, N. Hampshire, Vermont, New Brunswick, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and England States.

LAURENCE DEMOCRAT.—We have received the first number of a new paper bearing the above name. It is edited by Col. JOHN FORRESTER CARTER, formerly of the Youngman Gazette, and takes a bold stand in favor of democratic men and democratic measures. It will divide the honor of serving the democracy of Lancaster with that starting paper, the Intelligence, and we hope the party will extend to both of them a generous countenance with their high merits.

LIBERTY BELLS, ALA.—The warehouse of Messrs. Adams & Harris, and those of Mr. John Mitchell, were consumed by fire on Saturday, the 27th instant, and about 500 barrels of cotton and a considerable quantity of goods for the Jamaica Bay destroyed. We have no particulars.

ALFRED A. SMITH, Comptroller of the city of New York, died on Thursday last.

THE PHILADELPHIA MOB.

We copy the following details of the proceedings of the authorities, from the Times of Friday evening. We are astonished at the promptness and energy with which the authorities acted after the mob had commenced the city for four days, and became wearied in its course of murder and rapine.

THE RIOT QUELLED.

During the whole of yesterday and night tranquility reigned throughout the city and districts. At day-break the military companies stationed at the various churches were dismissed, and received orders to meet again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, so as to be prepared to take their posts again at 5 o'clock. The police were also dismissed at the same time, and had a similar order given them. Both these strong and efficient bodies went on duty at the time specified and places appointed by the constituted authorities, or under the command of Major General Patterson.

CONGRESS.—Mr. May's bill for the reduction of the tariff was laid on the table on the 10th by a vote of 109 to 99.
