From the Philadelphia Mercury.

STAE TRUE Chero was a Daniber state Whose name was Lizzy Damps; She wore long locks of yellow hair, And:green morocco pumps. ¹ Her gown was blue, her noso was red, · Her eyes of various colors; She had a juste refined; and then She had's thousand dollars !

> John Blink, her father's journeyman By Cupid taught the firt, With sly, insinuating ways, Ensnared her virgin heart, Fresh sausages and tender loins To prove his love he brought; And vowed he never killed a pig, it what of her he thought

Their love ran on in quietness, Their moments passed in pence, And every thing appeared to glido Along as smooth as grease. But ah! that change may come to all, Is very clear and plain; And though the sun is shining bright, Full soon 't may change to rain.

'Pete Keyser wore a red cravat And was a butcher's man; He owned a big bull terrier-dog, And with the Fairmount ran. But yet he never saw a fight Without he bade them cease. And knocked his brother fireman down, By way of keeping peace !

Now Pete this Lizzy Damps adored, And swore she should be his'n. Or elae ho'd lick John Blink, and clap His fingers to his wizen. And John replied he'd better not. Or else he'd get into A fix, a dozon men of strength Could never pull him through.

Thus matters stoud until one day They met in Market street. Pete Keyser stood and looked at John, And John he looked at Pete. John swore that Peter was a fool, And lying took delight in; Pete Keyser swore it was a lio-And then they went to fightin'.

They fought about an heur or more. Till John gave in and said, Howas so very sick the folks Should carry him to bed. They took him home upon a cart, And laid him down to die-And die he did-and in the grave His body soon did lie.

They carried Peter to the court, Where doctors made it plain That murder was a curious thing, And Peter was "insaue !" And what could honest jurces do. But bring a verdict in, That Peter was a crazy man, And killing was no sin.

Sir_Since I have been in this city I have used some of your Dyspeptic medicine with Infinite benefit and setter faction, and believe it to be a most valuable remois. One Inv constituents, Dr. A. Carden, of Calabeli connt. fennessee, wrote to me to send him some, which i did and he basemployed it very successfully in bisprie and says it is invaluable. Mr. Johnson, your agent at this place, thinks you would probably like aw agent in Cannessee. If so. I would recommend Dr. A Carden, a proper person to officiate for the sale of your celebrates medicine. Should you commission kim he is willing to set for yon. Yon can send the medicine by water to the care of Robert King & Bons, Knoxville county, Tennes-see, or by land to Graham & Houston, Taswell, Bast Tennessee. I have no doubt but if you had agents in several counties in East Tennessee, a great deal of modine would be sold. I am going to take some of it home for my own use, and that of my friends, and should like to hear from you whather yon would like an agent at Bluntville, Suilivan County. East Tennessee; I can gut me of the merchants to act for you as I live near there.
