IMPORTANT FACTS, PR. LEIDY'S Sarsaparilla Blood Pills are applica ble in all cases, whether for Purgatives of Pu rification, They possess all the boasted virtues of ather pills, and are additionally efficacious, containing Sarsaparilla in their composition, which is not contain ed in any other pills in existence. They are also different from other pills in composition, being purely regetable, and can be employed at all times, without any danger, and can be employed at an times, without any danger, and requiring no restraint from occupation or usual course of living.

Notwithstanding Dr. Leidy never pretended his Blood Pills would cure all diseases, yet it is not saying too much of them, from the innumerable cures perform ed by them in every variety and form of disease (cer-tificates of many of which have been published from persons of all denominations, physicians, clergymen, and others) that they seem to be almost universal in their effect; and persons using them for whatever sick ness or disease, may rest assured that they will be found more efficacious than any other pills in existence. From the known reputation of Dr. Leidy's Blood Pill, it is necessary to remind the public where they can at all times procure the genuine, as it is attempted impose other pills, called the 'Blood Pills' upon the public on the reputation of Dr. Leidy's. Be particular and ask for Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla Blood Pills and see that the name of N B. (Concluded.) We shan't speak of how Charles first noticed Maty's affection for him, and how in return he formed an affection for him, and how in return he formed an affection fer her; suffice it to say, the day of wedding had been appointed, and all necessary preparations made, when an unexpected chedimetance changed the merry token of affairs, to the wail of lamentation.

About a weak manipus to the since the modeling merry token of affairs, to the wail of lamentation.

About a week previous to the time the wedding was to have taken place, there came to the village a strange tim, who was meanly apparelled, and whose dark furrowed visage told a life of debauchery and crime. He begged alms of the villagers. Some gage, but others shrunk from him. Passing through the village he enquired for the pastor's house, when spon gaining the necessary information, he moved on to the house with an unaccentomed acceleration. Charles' horror on discovering in the countenance of his visitor, the features of one of his old criminal associates! Frenzy was getting the better of reason. Life was no longer a paradox for him! He conceived himself the countenance of their favors.

WILLIAM DOUGLASS, Wood street, m18-3m next door to the corner of 4th. was engaged in reading, when he heard some on thoughts crowding on his brain, he grew faint and would have fallen, had not the mocking laugh of his visitor struck a cord which awakened his paralysed energies. "Well,—ha, ha!—did I ever expect it!" cried his visitor, "I hardly could believe it, but I thought I would come and see for myself." "What, a prescher, Charles, eh! Well, I suppose that is a new way of screening oneself. Why, d—n it, I'll be one myself, and we will be partners once again!" and he laughed oud and long at his own wit.

eminence on which he stood.

One short mouth had scarcely elapsed from the time when Charles and the mendicant had met, when great distress and confusion was discernable in the village.

The old women and young maidens were much alarmed. Groups of old men and young were seen standing in crowds, earnestly conversing upon what was taking place in their hitherto quiet village. And what had caused this turbulent excitement! Need we say, the Charles Howard, their beloved pastor, had been accused, arraigned, and tried for an old offence of man. cused, arraigned, and tried for an old offence of man-der, on the confession of his accomplice, the mendicant George Bradley!
