Patent Improved Leaden Pipes. THE Leaden Pipes and Tubes manufactured according to Tatham's patent by W W Thomps of St Louis, have been sold for some time in this city. All who use it have found it remarkable for accuracy of calibre and uniformity of thickness, and perfectly free from flaws and scales.
It can be had in Piursburgh of C.W RICKETSON. The following is the REPORT Of a Committee of the Franklin Institute upon Tatham & Brothers' Patent Improved Leaden Pipes, &c. Hall of the Franklin Institute, . Philadelphia, Nov. 11, 1841.

The committee on science and arts, constituted by the Franklin Institute of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the mechanic arts, to whom was referred for examination the Patent Improved Leaden Pipe, manufactured by Messrs. Tatham & Brothers, of Phil-Report, that they have carefully examined many specimens of these pipes, selected by themselves and subjected them to repeated trials by a suitable force pump.

The pressure was cautiously increased until the burn ting point was attained in every instance, and the ph From the results of these trials the committee are unanimously of opinion, that these pipes possess

Hours of Altendance.—Gentlemen attend when it are attained by this mode of manufacture, insure this invariably.

Experiments on the strength of leader pipes exhibit many discordant and embarrassing characters, which have occasioned the committee some anxiety. It is well known that the presence of a small portion of tir, or other metal, which is usually alloyed with lead always effects its hardness and strength; so that pipes made precisely in the same manner, of lead procured from different and even from the same-mines, vary exceedingly in strength. This source of error cannot be ascertained without great difficulty, and the committee have taken it into consideration. 2d: Absence of Flaws .- As the metal is forced out from the receivers under enormous pressure whilst acquiring its form, flaws are avoided, which so often exist in the ordinary castings. It is moreover proba-ble, that such pressure, whilst consolidating the metal, contributes to its strength.

3d. Absence of Scales of Lead and Potish of the Interior.—The pipes are perfectly clean within, and from the mode of making them, must necessarily have this desirable property. I tates the motion of fluids. 4. Uniformity of Bore .- The calibre is canable of being made precisely the same throughout while the common leaden pipes may vary even when made with

5th. Economy of Metal, resulting from the concentricity of the interior and exterior surfaces. No metal is wasted from variation in thickness. 6th. The Longer Lengths, -requiring fewer joint thus diminishing the expense and inconvenience of soldering. These pipes can be made in lengths of from forty to three hundred feet according to their weights. 7th. Facility of making Pipes of large Diameter-which the committee believe to be simple impracticable by the ordinary methods, but which may nevertheless be sometimes demanded in the arts. By order of the committee [Signed.] WM. HAMILTON, Actuary. SHEET LEAD.
