FOR THE POST. SONG FOR THE DEMOCRATS. Ye Democrats all good and true, Your country now calls load on you; All jealousies and feuds despisin,

To beat old Clay and Frelinghuysen Rousel rouse ye Democratic folk, Unite like men on J. K. Polk; And G. M. Dullas, they're the men, Will beat the coonies thousands ten.

That cunning Coon of old Kentuck, Has always had the worst of luck; He run the course of times before. And beaten was full many a score.

And now if Clay had a Bank Palace. We'll beat him snug with Polk and Dallas; In strength the Damocrats are ri-in, And down goes Clay and Frequenuysen.

The Coons poor souls they want in power If they should hold it but in boar They want a paper Bank to cortain, If they should cheat old Berty Martin

They say they'll give the poor relief. And feed him well on good roast seefs And if he works a simple day. To him they will two toolers pay.

Fine promises indeed they give, But on them not a man can live. They promise, but don't mean to pay, And this they do from day to day.

But now the Democrats are risin, To break down Clay and Frelinghuysen With Polk and Dallas we can go it, And soon the Federalists shall know it THE ALLEGHENY POET.
