PHILADELPHIA, June 8, 1844. DEAR SIR: In accepting the nomination with which the democratic national convention unexpectedly honored me, I certainly conceived myself, at the same moment as acquiescing in the political principles enunciated in the resolutions passed by that body, and as engaging with solemnity to charish and exemplify them, "in any capacity in which I might be called upon to act." should that nomination result in my elecspon to act." should that nomination result in my elec-ion to the office of Vice President. Had I discovered, among those standard resolutions, a rule of conduct, legislative or executive, with which, in a material feature my mind refused to accord, I could not, without being inexcusably disingenuous, have consentd to become the candidate of the party as whose creed they were justly and fairly proclaimed. In recalling your attention, therefore, with this remark, to the full and formal declaration of doctrine published as of the will doubtless per nive that I have given a direct and comprehensive answer to your inquiry. FRANCIS R. SHUNK. june 8, 1844-t25d3m'ds THE TRIUMPH OF PRINCIPLE:

OR. TRUTH VERSUS FICTIOF. As illustrated in the rise and brilliant progress of the famous "Three Big Doors," 151 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.
Courteous reader, believe me, these lines are not wrote, As a pitiful puff, to sell pants or a coat; I would not by any be thought to suppose, That lengthy professions e'er brought cheaper cloths! Suffice it to say, there is none to compete With the far famed M'CLOSKEY, in Liberty street; He carries the sway and his name 's so well known, That they crowd his 'Big Doors' from all parts of town, They may talk of their cheapest, their finest and strongest,

It's not true—and all know that Mac's Clothing wear longest;
They may talk of 'first cost,' of 'half price' or a third, But to cope with M'Closkey, tis plainly abourd; His stock's so immense and his custom so great, That by forty per cent he can all others beat; M'Clorkey well knows how far jealousy goes, But he challenges all to produce such cheap clot Men of country and town, learn this wondrous result, His rivals would dare all your judgments insult, They fain would induce you to believe other stores, Sold as good and as cheap as the great "Three Big But M'Closkey will praise you for judgment and skill,

For from him you have purchased and will do so still, And well for yourselves were your real bargains made For they stand far the cheapest of all in the trade, From the Judge of our Courts to the Lumberman's but You may see in a moment M'Closkey's fine cut; bere are three great essentials on which M'Closks prides,

Durability, symmetry, and best clothes besides Before he concides, Mac ne'er can forget, The brilliant success which his "Big Doors" have me

He thanks each sincerely in this "cutting" age, For their kindness, their favor, and warm published Then visit his stock—it's examined by scores— And you surely will buy at the famous Big Dantel To his depot then bie-he will proudly you greet, Remember, M'CLOSKEY, in Liberty street. june 7-2w EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR-WHITE WHEAT.
