From Caba.-We extract the following from the e of the New York Republic:
MATANZAS, 22d February, 1844. Thursday-During yesterday and to-day ten French manters have been arrested, who have been known o us as good and honest men, fathers of families, and iserable negroes; this is the grand news of the day, and exclusively engages our attention

Saturday, 24th.—To-day we have seen Mr. Meyadier, one of our best friends, accompanied by some horse soldiers. His arrestation has given the greatest offence to us, as well as to all the French and Spanish proprietors, who know him to be a respectable and onorable man. When will these proceedings stop?

The Hudson Fire .- In addition to what we gave on Saturday, we find the following in the Albany Evening Journal. Forty buildings, it is said, are consumed, being the largest fire that has ever visited that city. The destruction of property is immense. Every building each side of Still street is swept by the board. A large quantity of oil was consumed, one account catileast 20,000 worth of wood was consumed, and all the lumber in the two extensive lumber yards on the dock. The total loss by this fire could not be ascertained. It will probably exceed $150,000; about one halfof which is covered by insurance.
