TESTOTA WIFEHUNTER HOAXED. Sometime since an advertisement appeared in Manchester (Eng) Guardian setting forth that the advertiser was in the want of a wife. A gentleman of Wakefield, conceiving that the announcement emana-and from some fortune hunter, took upon himself to write to the specified address, pretending to be a lady of fortune, who had never been able to meet with a eing of the male sex whom she could "promise to bonor, and obey," averring that the man who would be able to tune her heart to love, must be able

The writer, after avowing sympathy in the matter of literary taste, indulging n some romantic flourishes, and mentioning beauty as consubte in the lady, gives a glowing description of his own personal appearance. A correspondence Ty bona fide spirit, and by the wife-limiter in a be bastic and braggadocio style. The result was that an interview was appointed to take place on Friday afternoon, at Wakefield, and the gentleman promised to appear in his usual dress, a suit of saoles, or, that he might boar a more distinguished sign, he would wear a light vest, bave either a rose in his breast or a book in

True to his appointment, the gentleman presented himself at the place of meeting, and paraded the church yard for about twenty minutes, to the great aint of a number of parties in the street, who had posted themselves in the windows of the neigh-

As the lady did not appear, he then, in accordance with an arrangement previously made, went to the post-office, found a letter excusing and accounting for her absence, and declaring that on the following morning she would meet him at all risks. Although the whole correspondence appeared that morning in the Wakefield Journal, the wife hunting dope again kept the appointment, and after having been followed by a crowd, who enjoyed the joke that had been played upon him, he found out the trick, much to his discom-fiture. The gentleman is a resident of Liverpool.

One of my constituents, Dr. A. Carden, of Calonbell county Tennessee, wrote to me to send him soule, which ? file and be besemployed it very successfully in his practice and says it is invaluable. Mr. Johnson, your agent at this place, thinks you would probably like an agentia ennessee. If so, I would recommend Dr. A Cattleness a proper person to officiate for the sale of your calebraice, medicine. Should you commission him he is willing to act for you. You can send the medicine by water to the care of Robert King & Sons, Knoxville county, Tennes. e. or by land to Graham & Houston, Taxwell, Bas Tennessee. I liave no doubt but if you had agent a several counties in East Tennessee, a great deal of med. clue would be sold.
