AN ARAB FEAST. At sunset we reached Ain el Khader, or the Green fountain, the site of an encampment of the tribe of Ibdor. At this spot we pitched our tent, and were visited by a son of the sheikh, who, on the part of his fathwhich is said to possels one property of inestimable remit monies by drafts payable throughout the United value in this country, to wit, that a fine will never settle on it; and close to this, fine sheep skins had been sons residing at a distance can by writing to either of placed for his gosets. Welcome, welcome, said the subscribers, ascertain the prices of passage, &c., shelkh; and when we were seated, he added are your seates commutable? Have you all you require? Are you eatisfied?' I replied by pouring out a redundancy of blessengs on him and all his family and race. es. Ship, and all necessary information given. pecially his great-great-grandfather. All further conversation was cut short by one of his slaves Abd el Habeeb appearing with a Moorish table beautifully carved and painted in arabesque. It was of a circula form, about two feet in diameter, and raised some six inches from the ground, which, squatting as we were around it, was a very convenient elevation. Upon this table were placed a large Moorish bowl containing a thick soup, with some kind of vermicelliin it and highly seasoned with red peppers. In the savory mass were four wooden spoons of grotesque form, with which we set to work most heartily. The next dish was a stew of beef, accompanied with alices of melon to sharpen the appetite; and then appeared the usual comical dish of keskoo. During the repast not a word was spoken, except it were the ejaculations of Bismallak (in the name of God) al Handoo-billah, (thanks to God) or perhaps a Saffee Allah, (may God pardon me.). At length the Don and I were obliged to give up the attack upon the mountain of kesksoo, to the e vident sorrow and surprise of the sheikh, who, as well as the Kaid, continued for a long time to assault it vigorously. The ample dish being at last removed, the sheikh at last broke silence, Truly, you christians have made but a poor feast. 'A his establishment, has induced him to purchase sin to think of a pig!' said I, taking him rather quickprophet, who made the pig?' 'God,' said the sheikh.
'Then,' said I, 'according to your account, God created ne has entrapped me; I never heard it put in that beore.' Upon this he fell into a brown, study. I had not hower any great idea, that I had made a convert and, indeed, if I had, his next words would have dispelled the illusion. For still harping upon the father of tusks, he said, almost with a sigh, 'I am told that there is only one part of the pig which is forbidden; but unluckily, our prophet forgot to mention which. May find have mercy on us all!" 'Amen,' I responded, and we changed the conversation.—Hays' Western Washington, July 3d. 1838. Sir_Since I have been in this city I have used some of your Dyspeptic medicine with infinite benefit and satisfaction, and believe it to be a most valuable remedy. One f my constituents, Dr. A. Carden, of Ca.sabelt county nnessee, wrote to me to send him some, which I did and he has employed it very successfully in his practice and says it is invaluable. Mr. Johnson, your agent at his place, thinks you would probably like an agent in Connessee. If so, I would recommend Dr. A Carden, as proper person to officiate for the sale of your celebrated edicine. Should you commission him he is willing to et for you. You can send the medicine by water to the act for you. You can send the medicine by water to the care of Robert King & Sons, Knoxville county, Tennessee, or by land to Graham & Houston, Taxwell, East Tennessee. I have no doubt but if you had agents in several counties in East Tennessee, a great deal of medicinessee, a great deal of medicinessee. cine would be sold.
