Mr. Wulsh's unfavorable opinion of them, I think yo will often find piquant, and worth upon the whole, a extensive perusal: Besides the literary and politic interest which they possess, they will have the effect of diminishing, though not entirely removing, the odius he brought upon himself by his conduct to his wife. My position in relation to the friends of the three returned candidates, is singular enough, and often me very amusing. In the first place, they all belief that my friends have the power of deciding the que tion—and then, that I have the power of controlling my friends! Acting upon this supposition, in the same hour, I am sometimes touched gently on the should by a friend, (for example, of Gen. Jackson.) whill thus address me: "My dear sir, all my dependence is upon you; don't disappoint us; you know on partiality was for you, next to the Hero, and ho much we want a Western President!" Walsh's unfavorable opinion of them, I think you loften find piquant, and worth upon the whole, an ensive perusal: Besides the literary and political rest which they possess, they will have the effect iminishing, though not entirely removing, the odium prought upon himself by his conduct to his wife. My position in relation to the friends of the three urned candidates, is singular enough, and often to very amusing. In the first place, they all believe at my friends have the power of deciding the ques-on—and then, that I have the power of controlling by friends! Acting upon this supposition, in the anma our. I am sometimes touched gently on the shoulder by a friend, (for example, of Gen. Jackson.) who ill thus address me: "My dear sir, all my depend-nce is up n you; don't disappoint us; you know our artiality was for you, next to the Hero, and how such we want a Western President!" Immediately fler, a friend of Mr. Crawford would accost me-tre, a friend of Mr. Crawford would accost meie hopes of the Republican party are concentrated you; for God's sake preserve it; if you had been urned instead of Mr. Crawford, every man of us old have supported you to the last hour. We consider him and you as the only Republican candidates!" ext. a friend of Mr. Adams came with tears in his a— 'Sir, Mr. Adams has always had the greatest pect for you, and admiration of your talents; THERE NO STATION 10 WHICH YOU ARE NOT EQUAL—most loubtedly you were the second choice of New Eng-d—and I pray you to consider seriously whether the public good and your own future interest do not point most distinctly to the choice which you ought o make!" How can one withstand all this disinterested homage and kindness? Really, the friends of all the three gentlemen were so very courteous and affectionate, that I sometimes almost wish it was in my power to accommodate each of them; but that being impossible, we are beginning to think seriously of the choice that we must finally make. I will tell ou, then, that I believe the contest will be limited to Mr. Adams and General Jackson. Mr. Crawford's personal condition procludes the choice of him, if there were no other objection to his election. As the only hernative which is presented to us, it is sufficiently painful: and I consider whatever choice we may make will be only a choice of evils. To both of these gen-tlemen there are strong personal objections. The principal difference between them is, that in the election the election of Mr. Adams.
