Beferred Articles. PLNNSYLVANIA GIVEN UP. "We have mit the cnemy and they are ours." Out of their own mouths do the Coons stand bearen in Pennsylvania at the Presidential election in Novem ber. At the great Coon Mass Alecting at Alecting burgh, on the 17th of September last, the following resolution was passed unanimously:

"Resolved, That to give effect to our strength, the first charge upon the enemy must be successful; and that after a defeat at the October election, we can with little confidence expect a triumph in November" with little confidence expect a triumph in November and the subscribers, ascertain the prices of passage, &cc., ber. At the great Coon Mass Meeting at Harris-And again—at the Mass Meeting of the Coons at the subscribers, ascertain the prices of passage, &c., Valley Forge, Oct 3d, the great prophet of the Coons, and by a remittance of the necessary amount with the "I come among you to tell you the deep interest I feel in your ensuing state election. The election of a Provident of the United States depends on the next Apply to, or address JOHN HERDM. Gubernatorial election of Peunsylvinia." This shows the importance that was attached by or opponents to the late election and accounts for their extraordinary efforts to elect Markle. That the base extractuously cutors to even starket. I nat the base uttempts to excite religious prejudices ugainst Mr Shunk were to a considerable extent successful, we have abundant testimony to prove; and yet he has ob-tained a majority of over your THOUSAND votes in the state—and TEX THOUSAND out of Philadelphia. The vote of the state for Polk and Dallas may be put down as certain as that of any state in the Union, by perhaps from Twenve to Fifteen Thousand majority.—Penusylvanian. Millerism.—The Meredith Bridge, N. H., Gazette gives several instances of respectable men, who have made complete arrangements for the coming of the bridegroom, and who expect to hear the midnight cry on the 22d October:—
"Mr Morgan, of Meredith, professes to be full in the faith. He is a worthy farmer, and many amusing ireddents are related of him, exhibiting the struggle which is going on in his mind between duty and interest. It is said of him that he reckens interest on his money with the same exactness he ever did; and that the holds it to be his duly to dispose of all his property, which he offers at sharper's prices. It is said that up to this time his crops, except grain, are unbarvested; but he does not allow his brethien to feed upon them, and it is not unlikely that he will take them i by and by, for fear they should be injured, if not by fire, by frost and freezes. One thing, though, aught be mentioned; and it will no doubt furnish Mr Morgan great consolation hereafter, and stand as a norgan great consolation sincerity—he has given a perpetual momento of his sincerity—he has given a pour townsman a cow! If he does not go up, though, some say he is to have the cow back in the spring!
so, he will lose the advantage of this argument." The effects of the late flood in the Mississippi thus alluded to in the St. Louis Domucrat. Many of the Bottom frims still lie a dreary waste; the fences, barns, stables and our buildings lie in pro miscuous heaps of rubbish in the timber below, with -emfused hears of cord-wood, trees, drift wood and thickness of many feet on the bottom fields, and tenders them sterile and totally unproductive. This is the case with many farms in this county, St. Charles and Warren, and we believe in all the counties on the Missouri that have Bottom farms." THE UNEQUALLED THREE BIG DOORS! scription.
