A Dream .- The importance of individual action and value of the unit constituting large sums, is very faithfully and eloquently illustrated in the annexed dream, which, at a meeting in Ohio, for the promotion of the cause of education, Dr Beecher related. He said he had a dream, which like other dreams did not wholly explain itself, and in which some of the natural objects had the power of speech. He was travelling near the sources of the Monongahela, and in passing a rough country, at every short distance the met a little stream which he could step over; but all of them were going the same way. At last he asked one where he was going. "Why," replied the little rill, "Lam going to New Orleans. I heard the pto phe there want a great canal a thousand miles long and fifteen hundled feet wide, and I am going to help to make it." "And pray what can you do?" "I don't know what I can do, but I shall be there." And so saying, he hurrid on. Hecame to another, and asked saying, be hurrird on. Hecame to another, and asked the same question, and received the same answer.-

the same question, and received the same answer.— All were hurrying on to make the grand canal, on which the steamships of the West, with their heavy burdens, were to be transported. At the heads of the Allegherry, the Scioto and the Mississippi, he found thousands more of fitful streams, and which, while he yet spoke to them, hurried out of sight. None knew what he could do, but all were determined to do something. He passed on to the mighty Mississippi, and there be found the canal was made! The noble steamships rode procedly on its surface, and as its wa-ters diminished, they were again replenished to the brim, by every mountain spring and every stream.-Thus do the little rills make the stream, the stream the river, till the united waters of the whole pour on their way rejoicing, to the glorious ocean. So is man to the muss, and the mass to the grand tide of human affairs. Each little mortal, weak and weary though he be, can do something in making up the mighty stream of human events, as it rolls to the ocean of eternity.

your Dyspeptic medicine with infinite benefit and satis-faction, and believe it to be a most valuable remedy. One of my constituents, Dr. A. Carden, of Ca.onbelt county Tennessee, wrote to me to send him some. which I did and he has employed it very successfully in his practice and says it is invaluable. Mr. Johnson, your agent at (iis place, thinks you would probably like an agent in Tennessee. If so, I would recommend Dr. A Carden, as a proper person to officiale for the sale of your celebated medicine. Should you commission him he is willing to act for von. You can send the medicine by water to the are of Robert King & Bons, Knoxville county, Tennessee, or by land to Graham & Houston, Taxwell, East Tennessee. I have no doubt but if you had agents in several counties in East Tennessee, a great deal of medicine would be sold. I am going to take some of it home for my own use, and that of my friends, and should like lo hear from you whether you would like an agent at Bluntville, Sullivan County East Tennesser; I can get me of the morchants to act for you as I live near there.
