J Denning: On Friday, the 30th of last month, about 9 o'clock at night, the Planing, Grooving, and Sash Munufactery, owned by Gay, Dilworth & Co., with a large quantity of dressed and undressed lumber, was all the most of the most of the property of the supplied of you some time	the day! Am supersitions about days—say, then, say Thursday week, and believe me your devoted lover, till death. Nicholas Blackthous.  P. S. May I see you to-morrow?  THE WIDOW'S ANSWER.  Sir—Your favor of last night has, I own, surprised me. What! after one meeting, and that at a card party, to make such an offer! Well to be sure, you men are strange creatures! What, indeed, could you have seen in my conduct to think I could look over such boldness?  As for the rational point of life you speak of, I must confess I know not when that exactly occurs; do you think it—at least with women—at two-and thirty; or if not, may I beg to know what age you consider me?—Perhaps, though, my early and irreparable loss may have brought a look of premature age upon me. It isvery possible—for what a man he was!  As for what you say about the hearts, sir, I know but little; I only know the one I have lost. If I did pluck it green, like winter apples in my store room, it graw riper and riper in my care.  You say your wife's portrait smiled while you wrote. His dear miniature is now before me; I think I see the tears starting through the ivory as I look upon the precious features. If he ever could have frowned, but surely he would frown now to think—but I will not pursue the theme.  As to your means, sir, I am happy to hear they are sufficient. J Denning: On Friday, the 30th of last month, about 9 o'clock at night, the Planing, Grooving, and Sash Munfusctory, owned by Gry, Dilworth & Co., with a large quantity of dressed and undressed lumber, was all consumed by fire.  The Iron Safe which I bought of you some time back was in the most exposed situation during the fire, and was entirely red hot. I am pleased to inform you it was opened at the clase of the fire, and all books, papers, &c., saved;—this is the best recommendation	the day! I am superstitions about days—say, then, say Thursday week, and believe me your devoted lover, till death.  NICHOLAS BLACKTHORS.  P. S. May I see you to-morrow?  THE WIDOW'S ANSWER.  Sir—Your favor of last night has, I own, surprised me. What! after one meeting, and that at a card party, to make such an offer! Well to be sure, you men are strange creatures! What, indeed, could you have seen in my conduct to think I could look over such boldness?  As for the rational point of life you speak of, I must confeas I know not when that exactly occurs; do you think it—at least with women—at two-and thirty; or if not, may I beg to know what age you consider me?—Perhaps, though, my early and irreparable loss may have brought a look of premature age upon me. It is very possible—for what a man he was!  As for what you say about the hearts, sir, I know but little; I only know the one I have lost. If I did pluck it green, like winter apples in my store room, it graw riper and riper in my care.  You say your wife's portrait smiled while you wrote. His dear miniature is now before me; I think I see the tears starting through the ivory as I look upon the precious features. If he ever could have frowned, but surely he would frown now to think—but I will not pursue the theme.  As to your means, sir, I am happy to hear they are sufficient. Although I can by no possibility have an interest in them, novettheless I myself too well know the blessings of competence net to congratulate you. Epicares, and all fond of good eating, will find his larder bounteously supplied with all the necessaries and luxuries the market can afford. It will be the aim and pride of the proprietor to keep his eating department well stored, and in a manner suited to the taste of the most fastidious.  To the lovers of good liquors, too, he can without flattery to himself, offer as good and well furnished as BAR as is kept in the western country. The choicest wines and best of stronger liquors will always be kept in store, for the accommodation of those who may favor him with a call.  His facilities for accommodating the traveling public generally, will be found equal to any in the city. Sir—Your favor of lust night has, I own, surprised me. What! after one meeting, and that at a card party, to make such an offer! Well to be sure, you mean are strange creatures! What, indeed, could you have seen in my conduct to think I could look over such boldness?  As for the rational point of life you speak of, I must confess I know not when that exactly occurs; do you think it—at least with women—at two-and thirty; or if not, may I beg to know what age you consider me?—Perhaps, though, my early and irreparable loss may have brought a look of premature age upon me. It is very possible—for what a man he was?  As for what you say about the hearts, sir, I know but little; I only know the one I have lost. If I did pluck it green, like winter apples in my store room, it grew riper and riper in my care.  You say your wife's portrait smiled while you wrote. His dear miniature is now before me; I think I see the tears starting through the ivory as I look upon the precious features. If he ever could have frowned, but surely he would frown now to think—but I will not pursue the theme.  As to your means, sir, I am happy to hear they are sufficient. Although I can by no possibility have an interest in them, nevertheless I myself too well know the blessings of competance net to congratulate you.
