[From the Hartford Times.] THE LAST PROCESSION. Methought at eventide I paused, One cold November day, Where dry and grim an "ash pole" stood Like ghost beside the way; When on mine car a wail arose, And slowly o'er mine eye, With solemn tread a lengthened train, In funeral guise swept by.

First, with a face whose depth of gloom Ambition's blight had cast, The "Mill-boy of the Slashes" moved The chiefest mourner past; And then to soothe his rising grief, With sympathetic tear, With solemn air so meek and good, Walked Frelinghuysen near,

With "branding iron" in each hand, From his far travels come. Unsulaced in his deep despair, Stalked "Roorback" dark and glum, And sadly leaning on his arm, His old and under flame, In all her weeds of woe arrayed The widow "Brinbart" came.

Then "General Edwards and his son," That "estimable" pair, Marched 'midst a troop of "juveniles," And dandies with long hair ; While dolorous upon the breeze, All whenzingly and wide, Like his own windy bellows, the "Poughkeepsie blacksmith" sighed.

And then that "coacl: expressly built," And decked with silk and gold, The great "embodiment" to bear, ] With sullen motion rolled; And as along the dusky way Its darkening course it kept, Beside it, with his Clay "Tribune," Poor Greely walked and wept.

Then thronged a long and dismal host, A thousand men or more, Add each upon a frowzy rag A scurvy motto bore; And "colporteurs," with "Junius" tracts, A crushing, weary load, Bent down with weariness and woe, In sad procession trode.

And sorely on his wounded calf, With tear-drops in his eye, The great god-father of the "whige," Th' immortal Webb, limped by. A dole dirge Joe Hoxie sang Amidat that sorrowing train, And "glee clubs" and "Clay minstrels" joined The melancholy strain.

And thus they passed in long array, At evening's sombre hour And grief was heavy on each heart, With its o'ermastering power: For broken, "busted," "gone to pot." Exploded, vanished, fied,

Coming, then, before the people with the highest recommendations, it is at least, worthy of a trial by all who are afflicted with any of that large and dangerous class of diseases. The following is a specimen of the numerous testi- monfais which we have received. It is from a PHY- SICIAN of high standing in Ohio. Dear Sir—Having had occasion to witness the ef- fect of Dr. Duncan's Expectorant Remedy on Mr Eli Young in a case of Palmonary Consumption, 1 felt it my duty to make a brief statement in order that others that are or may be afflicted with the same complaint may be benefitted by the same remedy. He was attacked with inflammation in the loft lobe of the lungs in March 1843, attended with acute pain, great difficulty of breathing, and a severe cough, which proceded rapidly te suppuration and not withstanding the use and application of the best remedies prescribed by on which ad the effect of checking the disease to exhibit evident symptoms of ulceration. In this distressing stage of the complaint, I had re- bute to D Dancan's Expectorant 'Remedy for con- mannion, which had the effect of checking the disease transmition, which had the effect of checking the disease transmitenty, and in a few days the pain ceased, the breathing became free and easy, the cough left him, and the expectoration subsided, the consequences of which was that in using six bottles he has recovered the heath, and is restored to his family.
