THE GREEK AND TURKMAN. A RIGHT ATTACK BY CONSTANTINE PALEOLOGUS,

On a detached camp of Mohammed 2d, during the siege of Constantinople. The Turkman lay beside the river; The wind play'd loose thro' bow and quiver; The charger on the bank fed free, The shield hung glittering from the tree, The trumpet, shawn and atabal Lay screened from dew by cloak and pall, For long and weary was the way The hordes had march'd that burning day.

Above them, on the sky of June, Broad as a buckler glowed the moon Flooding with glory, vale and hill, In silver sprang the mountain rill, The weeping shrub in silver bent, A pile of silver stood the tent: All soundless, sweet tranquillity-All beauty, hill, brook, tent, and tree

There came a sound-'twas like the gash When night winds shake the rose's bush! There came a sound-'twas like the tread Of wolves along the valley's bed! There came a sound-'twas like the flow Of rivers, swoln with melting snew! Then came a sound—'twas like the roar "Of Ocean on its winter shore!

"DEATH TO THE TURK!" up rose the yell-On rolled the charge-a thunder peal? The Tartar arrows fell like rein-They clanked on helm, and mail, and chain-In blood — in hate — in tleath were twined Savage and Greek, — mad — bloeding — blind And still, on flank, and front, and rear Baged, Constantine, thy thirsticst spear !

Brassy and pale-a type of doom Labored the moon through deep ning gloom ! Down plunged her orb—'twas pitchy night! Now, Turkman, turn thy reins for fligh! On rushed their thousands in the dark! But in their camp a ruddy spark Like an uncertain meteor reel'd-Thy hand, brave king, that fire-brand wheeled!

Wild burst the burning element, "O'er man and courser, flood and tent! And, through the blaze the Greeks outsprang, Like tigers,-bloody, foot and fang!-With dagger-stab, and falchion-sweep, Delving the stunned and staggering heap-Till lay the slave, by chief and khan-And all was gone that once was man.

There's wailing on the Euxine shoro-Her chivalry shall ride no more! There's wailing on thy hills, Altai ! For chiefs, the Grecian vulture's prey-But, Bosphorus ! thy silver wave Hears shouts for the returning brave-For kingliest of a kingly line Lo! THERE COMES GLORIOUS CONSTANTINE!
