it, it sends forth only streams of death; and so will The Daily Morning Post. desecrated and polluted Sabbaths work out more speedy and dreadful roin. Our principle of self-government as a people must be abandoned, and we and our children must pass under the yoke of despotism.

There is men to encourage us. The Sabbath, like the Bible, is to a great extent embedded in our affecerished associations, and in social and civil usages. Almost universally the places of pubdic amusement are closed, and as a general fact and in graving degree there is a cessation from open la-bor, and from whom this privilege is yet withheld— for whithheld it is in instances fearfully numerous have begun to feel it the screet evil of their poverty that they cannot ebiain that even as a boon which is theirs by inaffeoable birth-rights—the legacy of their fathers. Of the strength of this desire for deliverance there are the most convincing proofs before the Convention, and among the motives which have assembled us here, many of us from distant homes, were the affecting appeals this very class of our proscribed fellow-citizens the help which public opinion and public sympathy casy bring to their relief. Shall it be denied? and especially shall the sought for aid be withheld by those who have the power to grant it; and that for the sake of gains uncertain at the best, but which if realized, will oring no real good, and which may yet ruffle and dis-inch the willow of death. In conclusion, we would ask of our fellow citizens their influence, their kind persuasions, and above all, their blameless example in aid of this cause, to the for because of which so many and so various considerations prompt us. The world has never witnessed the spectacle of an universal obedience to the Sabbath ter any country, and its full power to bless a nation is yet ancevealed. In no other land can the trial be ful here it will be as the voluntary decision of a free characteristic, our observance of the Sabbath is the only one truly national and American, and for this its hold on our affections and patriotism. It was a moble thought, and may well mingle with higher and mobler motives to stimulate our efforts and encourage our hopes. And while it is the glory so eagerly coveted by other nations that they may be pre-eminent in conquests and extended rule, let us gladly accept it as our distinction, and wear it as the fairest of all that grace our escutcheon, that we pre-eminently honor the Sabbath and the Sabbath's Lord.

The address was then signed by the officers of the Convention, when the President, (Mr. Adams.) stated that as he proposed leaving that evening for Washington, he would not be able again to meet the Convention, and he would therefore renew the expression of his gratitude for the honor done him, in selecting him to preside over their deliberations. He had experienced great gratification in listening to the discussions that had taken place, and he had no doubt the most favourable results would be produced by the proceedings on the occasion. The results would tend the safe and there is none offered as coming forward at ancient to the public that we have purchased the above named goods at the Philadelphia Auctions, since the election of James K. Naturalization, can never assume a respectable stand among freemen. The Gazette well remarked that such a party could only thrive on a slave soil. There was great force in the remark, and we confidently expect to see these craven and malignant spirited boasters who were so milling to degrade themselves, among the very first to crouch like spaniels under the lash of Deacon White and thus become the servants of the servant of the immortal fifteen whigs.
