THE ANTIQUITY OF FREEDOM. BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT. Here are old trees, tall oaks, and guarled pines, That stream with gray green mosses; here the ground 3Vas never trenched by spade; and cowers spring up wn, and die ungathered. It is sweet To linger here, among the flitting birds, And leaping squirrels, wandering brooks, and winds That shake the leaves, and scatter as they pass, A fragrance from the cedars, thickly set With pale blue berries. In these peaceful shades-Peaceful, unpruned, immeasurably old-My thoughts go up the long dim path of years, Back to the earliest days of liberty.

Oh FREEDOM! thou art not, as poets dream, A fair young girl, with light and delicate limbs, And wavy treases gushing from the cap With which the Roman master crowned his slave When he took off the gyves. A bearded man, Armed to the teeth, art thou; one mailed hand Grasps the broad shield, and one the sword; thy bro Glorious in beauty, though it be, is scarred With tokens of old wars; thy massive limbs Are strong with struggling. Power at thee has launche His bolts, and with his lightnings smitten thee: They could not quench the life thou hast from heave Merciless power has dug thy dungeon deep, And his swart armours, by a thousand fires, Have forg'd thy chain; yet, while he dreams thee bou The links are shivered, and the prison walls Fall outward: terribly thou springest forth, As springs the flame above a burning pile, And shoutest to the nations, who return Thy shoutings, while the pale oppressor flies.

Thy birthright was not given by human hands. Thou wert twin-born with man. In plea-ant fields, While yet our race was few, thou sat'st with him, To tend the quiet flock and watch the stars, And teach the read to utter simple airs. Thou by his side, amid the tangled wood, Didst war upon the panther and the wolf, His only foes; and thou with him didst draw The earliest furrows on the mountain side, Soft with the deluge. Tyrunny himself, The enemy, although of reverend look, Hoary with many years, and far obeyed, Is latter born than thou; and as he meets The grave defiance of thine elder eye, The usurper trembles in his fastness

Thou shalt wax stronger with the lapse of years, But he shall fade into a feebler nge; Feebler, yet subtler. He shall weave his sonres, And spring them on thy careless steps, and clap-His withered hands, and from ambush call His hordes to fall upon thee. He shall send Quaint makers, forms of fair and gallant mien, To catch thy gaze, and attering graceful words. To churm thy ear; whilst his sly imps, by stealth Twine round three threads of steel, light thread

That grow to fetters, or bind down thy arms With chains concealed in chaplets. Oh! not yet May'st thou unbrace thy corslet, nor lay by Thy sword; nor yet, O Freedom! close thy lids In slumber; for thine enemy never sleeps, And thou must watch and combat till the day Of the new earth and heaven. But wouldst thous Awhile from tumult and the frauds of men, These old and friendly solitudes invite Thy visit. They, while yet the forest trees Where young upon the unviolated earth, And yet the moss-stains on the rock were new, Beheld thy glorious childhood, and reigiced. SALE OF THE MAIN LINE OF THE PUB-

LIC WORKS OF PENNSYLVANIA. The Pennsylvania Canal and Rail-Read

GREAT DISCOVERY in the HEALING ART. John H. Brown & Co. A strong and undoubted evidence of its worth, is to John S. Riddle, be found in the high degree of popular favor which it lames O'Connot has received since its introduction into the West.— july 2, 1844. Wherever an agency has been opened for its sale, and wherever it has received a fair and honest trial, it has become firmly established as a STANDARD FAMILY MEDICINE. It is rapidly superseding the use of the many nos trums, which have so long imposed upon the communi-ty, which have obtained their name only by puffing and braggadocia, and which are now destined to be thrown saids to make way for the best cough medicine of the present uge. It is not pretended that it will positively cure every case of the disease, for which it is designed, but it is honestly believed that in every case where it gets a fair change it will effect a cure

who are afflicted with any of that large and dangerous class of diseases, The following is a specimen of the numerous testi of the lungs in March 1843, attended with acute pain great difficulty of breathing, and a severe cough, which proceded rapidly to suppuration; and not withstanding the use and application of the best remedies prescribed by our authors, the complaint in a few days began to exhibit evident symptoms of ulceration.

In this distressing stage of the complaint, I had recourse to Dr Duncan's Expectorant Remedy for con-sumption, which had the effect of checking the disease immediately, and in a few days the pain ceased, the breathing became free and easy, the cough left him, and the expectoration subaided, the consequences of which was that in using six bottles he has recovered his health, and is restored to his family.

I do hereby certify the above to be true statement of my case as far as comes within my knowledge.
