From the St Louis Organ. A "WERRY SAD LAMENTATION. It is not that she bade me go, And said I'd better stop my calling, It is not that she answered "No," As loud as could be-short of bawling; It was not that she slammed the door, And set her nasty lap-dog on me: On no! a greater, keener grief Weighs down my heart and preys upon me

I cannot bear to see her go And promenade with other fellows: I cannot bear to see her walk On rainy days 'neath their umbrellas To see such things agoing on, Excites my virtuous indignation; It makes me swear, as one might say, In vulgar phrase "like all creation.

To see her seated on a chair, With half a dozen fops about her; And hear that fool AUGUSTUS swear He "cun't exist a day without her Tis this which makes my withered hopes Fall thick and fast like leaves in Autumn, And cause my poor heart to beat Like a young bear's when dogs have caught him.

What if her father is the Souire. And I'm a friendless printer's devil? She need'nt cut me in the street-It would'nt hurt her to be civil. But ah! my heart-strings are a lute On which her hand unfoeling lingers; Well be it so! the tune is sad. But then 'tis played by beauty's fingers.

"Enough! enough! I've lost the maid: My mind is bordering on distraction; Yes, yes-I'll leave this classic shade, And sook a wider field of action; For in the distant Texian land? In war's proud ranks I'll seek for glory, And then perhaps in later years My name will sound in verse and story.

And if, oh cruel HARRIETTE! You hear them tell about a "stranger Who wore the 'lone star' on his crest, And never cared a cent for danger,' Perhaps you'll proudly look around. And with a sigh of sympathy Exclaim to all your wondering friends "That brave young man once courted me."
