FLE BARRELS AND GUN TRIMMINGS, sufficient to secure our State and its citizens against any injustice from the Rallimote and Object Political and Injustice from the Rallimote gether with every variety of articles appertaining to The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company assented to the terms of this act, commenced the work, and prosecuted with all the means within its control, its > 1839, a supplement to this act, extending the time for etion of the railroad until the 27th of February, 1847, but adding various new restrictions was It is not necessary that your memorialists should enter into a labored discussion of the merits of these new restrictions—it is sufficient to say, that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have regarded them as altogether inadmissible, and as tantamount to prohibition to enter this State. Since the date of the passage of that act, the company has caused to cast its longing eyes upon the rich wallies of the Youghiogany and Monongahela, the provisions of that law nongahela, the provisions of that law have created a barrier along our southern line more difficult overcome than either mountains or rivers, and the mpany has been driven by irresistible necessity to cek other routes to the Ohio. Since 1840, the Enneers of the company have been exploring every part of the country lying between Cumberland, the Little Kenhawa, and the Pennsylvania line. These explorations have been entirely successful, and have settled, beyond all doubt, that various routes from Sumberland to the Ohio, without entering the Common extension towards Pittsburgh. On the 20th June, ealth of Pennsylvania, are practicable. It is under such circumstances that your memorialists now approach your honorable bodies. The discovery of these various practicable routes to the Ohio rivering this State, has pronounced an entirely different state of things from which existed when the act of 1839 was passed. Then it was believed that the railroad could not reach the Ohio river, the great channel of trade, without passing through the Reystone, and the Legislature of that year may have displayed wordly wisdom in the conditions then imposed. So long as your memorialists believed that the company had no other route to the Ohio river, they never troubled your honorable bodies with any applications on the subject. The members of the Board of Trade are all Pennsylvanians, having no partialities for a cor-wood and Market, where he now manufactures all regret that the Legislature of that year availed itself of drive even a hard hargain.

That company, however, considered the terms too severa—it considered that an acceptance of the conditions of the law of 1839 would be an act of moral nicide, and, of course, rejected them. There remain ed then to that company but one alternative, to pro-cure from the Legislature of Virginia "further time for the extension of their road through that State with-in the limits of the original charter, allowing the company to strike the Ohio river at a point not lower' than Parkersburgh. than Parkersburgh.

The very able and distinguished president of that company has been at Richmond for many weeks, pressing upon the attention of that Legislature his earnest memorial, with all that tact and talent which characterized him. To suppose that he will fail in his appli-cation would be irrational. He asks of that Legislagues, Castellos, &c.

Together with the best brands of Virginia Chewing obacco (fine cut.) Snuffs and half Spanish and Comton Cigare: all of which with the control of th two hundred and twenty-three miles through that state to the Ohio. To reject such an application would be nere fatuity. The James River and Kenhawa company may have influence to restrict the western terminus to a point further north than Parkersburgh, but that is the utmost which we can anticipate.
