From the Cincinnati Gazette. OLD BROWN DOG. There is an old brown dog, That roams about our streets. But no one knows from whence he came Or where he cats or sleeps. His name—his race—and business here, Are hidden in a fog, There seems to me a mystery

About that old brown dog. He often haunts the post office. His letter never comes— He sometimes visits Louderback's, But buys no sugar-plumbs— He curls himself beside the door Which leads to the Gazette, But never asks the latest news Nor seems disposed to bet.

He dogs no master round, Like most of his degree, But through the longest winter da. In one lone spot he'll be. And there with head between his paws, He lies mid snow or rain, As if some dog-ma wild and vague Perplex'd his troubled brain.

And oftentimes I stop And gaze, and try to trace, The mournful thoughts that seem to flit Across his wrinkled face. When filled was pleasure's cup, Of days of sunshine, mirth and joy When he was but a pup.

The voice he once obeyed May long have died away, But still he waits to hear its call Fro n weary day to day, He dreams of ancient times, Nor can he quite suppress A sigh-when visions real arise Of bones-now marrowless.

Enough-I do not wish But on his breast he seems to bear A weight of heavy cares. Are hidden in a fog, There seems to be a myster About that brown old dog.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONY. DR SWATE, Dear Sir:-In last October, while engaged with Mr Joseph Smith, in a saw-mill near Waynesburgh, I was attacked with a cough from being exposed at night, which gradually increased, attended with spitting of blood, and a severe pain in the breast, loss of appetite, fever, &c. &c. which was scarcely supportable. I had a family who were wholly dependent on my exertions for support, yet I was obliged to leave my business and return home. I was then attended by several physicians, but still grew worse, until my medical attendants gave me up as an incurable. Subsequently, my wife observing, in one of the public prints, an advertisement of DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, procured me one bottle from Francis M'Clure, your agent in Lewistown, which relieved me; I continued until I had taken five bottles; I am now able to return to my work again. I write this to offer you my sincere teanks, and you are at liberty to make this known, so that if any human being is suffering as I have been, they may have recourse to your invaluable medicine
