LINES ON ALSTRING THE COUNTRY. BY WM. C. BRYANT. I stand upon my native hills again, Broad, found and green, that in the southern sky, With garacture of waving grass and grain; Orangeds and beechen forest, basking lies While deep the sunless giens are scooped between, Where brawl o'er shallow beds the stream unseen.

A lisping voice and glancing eyes are near, And ever-restless steps one, who now Gathers the blossoms of her fourth bright year; There plays a gladness o'er her fair young brow, As breaks the varied scene upon her sight; Upheaved, and spread in verdure and in light! For I have taught her, with delighted eye, To gaze upon the mountains; to behold, With deep affection, the pure, ample sky, And clouds along the blue abyss that rolled; To love the song of waters, and to hear

The melody of winds with charmed ear. Here I have scaped the city's stiffing heat, Its horrid sounds, and its polluted air; And, where the season's milder lervors beat, And gales, that sweep the forest borders, bear The song of bird and sound of running stream, Have come a while to wander and to dream.

Aye, flame thy fiercest, sun; thou canst not wake, In this pure air, the plague that walks unseen; The mugic leaf and maple bough but take From thy fierce heats a deeper, glossier green; The mountain wind, that faints not in the ray, Sweeps the blue streams of pestilence away. The mountain wind-most spiritual thing of all The wide earth knows-where in the most sultry He stoops from his vast cerusean hall, [time, He seems the breath of a celestial clime. As if from heaven's wide-open gate did flow Health and refreshments on the world below.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONY. DR SWAYRE, Dear Sir:-In last October, while cr gaged with Mr Joseph Smith, in a saw-mill near Waynesburgh, I was attacked with a cough from being exposed at night, which gradually increased, attended with spitting of blood, and a severe pain in the breast; loss of appetite, fever, &c. &c. which was scarcely supportable. I had a family who were wholthen attended by several physicians, but still grew ty is equal to our inclination.

The process until my medical attendants gave me up as an expression of the process of worse, until my medical attendants gave me up as an incurable. Subsequently, my wife observing, in one of the public prints, an advertisement of DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, procured me one bottle from Francis M'Clure, your agent in Lewistown, which relieved me; I continued until I had taken five bottles; I am now able to return to my work again. I write this to offer you my sincere teanks, and you are at liberty to make this known, so that if any human being is suffering as I have been they may have recourse to your invaluable medicine JOHN P. New Labanon, State of New York. WORTHY FRIEND:—Having made a thorough trial of the Medicated Vavor Bath for four months past, in our societies in New Lobanon and Watervliet, we think it but justice to state, that we consider it a valuable improvement in the healing art. Its power in reduc-ing both chronic and acute inflamation, also in removing spasms, is certainly very great. In cases of obing spasms, facertainly very great. In cases of the safest structed perspiration, it is unquestionably the safest sand best remedy, that we have ever soon. Several persons in our society, who were scarcely free from a catarrhal affection during most of the winter months for soveral years past, have found permanent relief by Wm. Bell & Sons, using the Bath a few times; and the predisposition to using the Bath a few times; and the predisposition to take cold, as it is commonly termed, seems to be whol y removed.
