A CHRISTMAS CAROL. To Church betimes! The Christmas chimes Are calling high and low in;
To Church then all, both great and small! Chorus of many voices.

We've no u coat to go in ! Like our old sires, with roaring fires, The fangs of winter braving, Hego logs piled high, to sit thereby. We've not a single shaving!

Good Christmas fare is physic rare To warm the regions inner; Plum-pudding join to stout surlein. We've not a crust for dinner!

Fill glass and bowl, each jovial soul, Our wine is bright in its ruddy light. Chorns.
Our very water's fruzen!

Right late we'll sup, and keep it up Till time to morn shall creep on; Then sink to rest in downy nest.

. We've not a bed to sleep on Loud be the song, the laughter long, Our joy no care shall leaven; Ceristmus is here but once a year. Chorus

For that, at least thank Heaven!

Courting Abolished.—Heigho! for the coming generations. The great Reformed broom which has swept and "is being" swept so fiercely throughout the world-brushing down old cobweb notions, and kicking up such a dust in every quarter—proscribing estables, drinkables, wearables, sleepables, and all kind of bles, has got at last into "Love's own Bower." Courting has been seriously voted down in solemn conclave! A resolution against "nightly courtship" has recently been discussed in a Free Will Baptist Convention, sitting in Boston, and passed unanimously. A reverend Elder lifted up his voice against the wicked practice of courting, "the custom of keeping comis corrupting" and that it "ought to be done away with:" Nine o'clock is the usual bedtime. Now if we understand the elder, a "fellow" may "keep company" with a gal until the bell rings, but every me-ment be remains afterwards he is guilty of sin. But let us hear the reverend gentlem in a objections in full.

"My objections to it are as follows: 1. It lowers she dignity of the matrimonial institution. 2. It subjects to great temptation 3. It disqualifies the mind for deliberate action. What merchant could you induce to close a bargain after the fatigue and excitement of a night's watching? Were he to purchase a house, he would say that he was not fitted to conclude the bargain till he had taken some rest. And if all

AUGUSTUS ROWSER.

ROARING RAPIDS, KY., July, 1843. Mr. Rock:—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of a wonderful eventcaused by your Essential Oil.

I am antiocering on the Salt River Rail Road, and was a subsection with a train of cars from Skunksborough to this place, when the engine suddenly stopped. Of the limition, I found that the wheels wanted greaing; this seemed unlucky, as I was unprovided with the article, but remembering that I had a vial of Essential oil is my coat pocket. I drew it out and assisted the huber instantly the cars were off at the Essential oil is my coat pocket, I drew it out and apointed the hubs—instantly the cars were off, at the cate of 150 miles per hour; being left alone in the road, I swall-wed the gret of the Oil, started on foot, and arrived at the station just 24 seconds later than the train. While the cars were passing at this unparalleled rate, a negro belonging to Mr. Roorback, attempted to cross the track, two miles in advance, and trust that his increased accommodations will enable him to retain all his old friends and acquire manny new ones.
