there appears to have been at that time the same spirit pistate gravis et meritis, who misrepresentation, which characterizes the traveller of the present age:-

"When Heaven, for man's wicked deeds, To punish Adam's guilt, One place unoursed there yet remained-The face of paradise retained-And there was Boston built.

But Heaven, lest the old Deceiver, Sutan, should ours again endeavor By his artifice to undo man-Out of His gracious care, from hence He rooted out the tree of Sense, Nor left one tempting woman.'

> A TRANQUIL LIFE. Let him stand, whoever will, On promotion's slippery sill: Me, let quiet satisfy, Finding every real pleasure In a bland and blessed leisure

By the world of men unknown, Let my life flow silent on: Bo, when all its days are passed, Each more tranquil than the last Let me fill an old man's grave. No man's master, no man's slave Heaviest on him doth lie The burden of mortality. Who, known to all the world heside, Stranger to himself hath died.

CHARLES CARROLL.

BY LORD BROUGHAM. [From the Historical Sketches of statesmen flourished in the time of George III.] We do a thing of very pernicious tendency, if we confine the records of history to the most eminent personages who bear a part in the events which it com-memorates. There are often others whose sacrifices are much greater-whose perils are more extreme and whose services are nearly as valuable as those of the more prominent actors; and who yet have, from ing nature, never stood forward to fill the foremost places, or occupy the larger spuces in the eye of the world. To forget such men is as expedient for the public service, as it is unjust towards the individuals. lic merit to the feats of leaders against established tyrany, or the triumphs of orators in behalf of freedom. Many a man in the ranks has done more, by his zeal and self devotion, that any chief, to break the chains of last enevivor of the natriarchs of the American revolution is entitled to the first place; His family was settled in Maryland ever since the reign of James II; and had, during that period, been possessed of the same ample property—the largest of the Union. It stood, therefore, at the head of the aristocracy of the country; was naturally in alliance with the government; could gain nothing, while it risked foremost to sign the celebrated declaration of indepen- ny new ones. dence. All who did so, were believed to have devo-ted themselves and their families to the furies As he the hall of Congress, "There goes some millions of property!" And, there being many of the same name, when he heard it said, "Nobody will know what Carrol it is," as no one signed more than his name; and one at his elbow, addressing him, rema ked, "You'll get clear—there are several of the name,—they will not know which to take." "Not so," he replied, and instantly added his residence, "of Carrolton."

He was not only a man of firm mind, and steadily fixed principles; he was, also, a person of great ac-complishments and excellent abilities. Educated in the study of the civil law, at one of the French colle gas, he had resided long enough in Europe to perfect his learning in all the ordinary branches of knowledge. On his return to America, he sided with the people against the mother country; and was soon known and esteemed as among the ablest writers of the independent parts. The confidence reposed in him, soon afterwards, was so great, that he was joined with Frank-dy. One of my constituents, Dr A Carden, of Campwhich I did, and he has employed it very successfully in his practice and says it is invaluable. Mr Johnson, your agent at this place, thinks you would probably like an agent in Tennessee. If so, I would recommend Dr A Carden, as a proper person to officiate for the sale of your celebrated medicine. Should you commission him he is willing to act for you. You can send the medicine by water to the care of Robert King & Sons, Knoxville county, Tennessee. If so, I would recommend Dr A Carden, as a proper person to officiate for the sale of your celebrated medicine. Should you commission him he is willing to act for you. You can send the medicine by water to the care of Robert King & Sons, Knoxville county, Tennessee, or by land to three years to act in this capacity. The rest of his time, until he retired from public life, in 1804, was measured as a senator of Maryland. In all these capacity have no doubt but if you had agents in several county.

of the South Europe,) sweet as it is tranquil, and partaking neither of the fieroe heats of the earlier, nor the chilling frosts of the latter season. His days were both crowned with happiness, and lengthened far beyond the usual period of human existence. He lived to see the people, whom he had once seen 900, ood in number, pass twelve millions; a handful of de-pendent colonists become a nation of freemen, a de-pendent astilement assumes its place among the first rate powers of the world; and he had the delight of Seeling that to this consummation he had contributed his ample share. As no one had run so large a risk by joining the revolt, so no one had adhered to the standard of freedom more farmly, in all its fortunes, whether waving is triumph, or over disaster and defeat.— He never had despaired of the commonwealth, nor ever had lent his ear to factious counsels; never had shrunk from any sacrifice, nor ever had pressed him self forward to the exclusion of men better fitted to serve the commoncause. Thus it happened to him, that no man was more universally respected and beloved; none had fewer enemies; and, notwithstanding the ample share in which the gifts of fortune were showered upon his house, no one grudged its prosperity.

It would, however, be a very erroneous view of his meerits, and the place which he filled in the eye of his country, which should represent him only as respected for his patriotism and virtues. He had talents and ats, which enabled him effectually to help the cause he espoused. His knowledge was various, and his eloquence was of a high order. It was, like his character, mild and pleasing; like his deportment, edirect and faultless. Flowing smoothly, and executing more than it seemed to aim at, every one was charmed at it, and many were persuaded. His taste was peculiarly chaste, for he was a scholar of extra-ordinary accomplishments; and few, if any, of the speakers of the New World came nearer the model speakers of the row world came nearer the motion of the more refined oratory practised in the present with number of the more refined oratory practised in the present with questions and answers upon Anatomy and Physical Matter with sufficient strength, are noticed in its enviable characteristics; and as it thus approached the The Pennsylvania Law Directory for 1844, in Pam tone of conversation, so long after he ceased to appear The Pennsylvania Law Directory, for 1844, in Pamia public, his private society is represented as display phler.
