THE PUBLIC WORKS .- We mentioned, yesterday, that the Committee of Ways and Means in the Barrisburgh, that they have gone a step further, and reported against a sale of the works for any price that can be obtained. The report expresses the opinion that since the vote was taken on the subject the people have, since the late election, wholly changed their views as to the propriety of sellir g the works.

· There could not have been a more inauspicious time selected for obtaining the views of the people upon the subject, than the late canvass in Pennsylvania. So thoroughly was every one occupied with discussing the merits of the Presidential and Gubernatorial candi dates, and the measures each would carry out, that the vital and important question, Shall the Main Line be sold? was nearly forgotten. The whige, with that in stinct of their political nature which makes them favor any scheme of monopoly, went almost unanimously for the project .- Acting under the impression that the patronnge of the public works was a vast advantage to the democratic party in this State, and feating that they would be defeated again, notwithstanding their affected confidence of success, many of the whigh supported the sale. Others, again, sustained it because they hoped it might turn out a profitable speculation to the whig ticket.
